GOOD ROADS WORK

Demonstrations Daily at the State Fair

One of the Most Interesting and Popular Practical Exhibits Made

The good roads demonstration at the state fair continues to attract the crowds. Mostly farmers, city and county officials, and even congressmen and United States senators are among the throng at the rock crusher.

Senators Mitchell and Fulton were visitors early and often, and Senator Mitchell stayed a long time, while his friends tried in vain to pull him over to the grand stand for some time after the races were started. Mayor Waters was a close observer of the crushed rock operations, and is a champion of crushed rock on the streets of Salem.

Judge Scott was in his element, and had a hand ready for anything from a visitor to handling a shovel on the wagons loading with crushed rock. He has reason to be proud of his achievement, in having a section of road built under the eyes of thousands, and all the most improved road machinery running as a practical object lesson for the whole state.

Many members of county courts from all parts of the state were present. More than one farmer walked off, saying: "That is the way to build roads," and they viewed with special satisfaction the three grades of crushed granite pouring out of the great bunker from iron spouts, and being hauled off onto the grade constructed with improved machinery, under the direction of Road Expert Abbott, of the United States department of agriculture.

County Road Master McCorkle was as busy as a nailer helping to finish the first hundred feet of dump on the street being constructed at the fair grounds. The county steam road roller was passing up and down, and a Journal representative rode off proudly on the first load of crushed granite ever put on a public road in Western Oregon. The team was driven by Robert Varley, of this city.

Rock will be crushed every day of the fair, and the work of road building will go on before the eyes of the people each day. The granite and basalt will both be used on separate sections, and possibly a piece of road will be made of basalt, finished with a top coat of granite. There is also a supply of boulders from creek beds that will be crushed, and there is a gravel screen ready to separate a lot of river gravel into three grades, and that will also demonstrate gravel roads.

Grafter Grafted Grafter.

COURTS WERE FULL

Of Drunks, Disorderly Characters, and Motley Crowd of Suspects

Yesterday was the star day of the present administration at the police court, and between the city hall, sheriff's office and fair grounds constabulary the "crooks" are "going south." Twenty-two arrests were made, eight of which were drunks, and were disposed of this morning in the following manner:

- Jack Armstrong, $5, paid.
- J. Mallory, 2 1/2 days.
- Ed. Jones, 2 1/2 days.
- John Carmody, 5 days.
- Ross Desmond, 2 1/2 days.
- Ed. Lang, 5 days.
- D. Davis, 2 1/2 days.
- Mañe Kane, $5, paid.

Kane, who is a Portland gardener, says he has not been in Salem for 16 years before, and is never coming again, which is to be regretted by the officers.

After Club Saloon.

The city council of Forest Grove is determined to put an end to all kinds of liquor-dealing in Forest Grove, and is taking steps to close up the Commercial Club, an organization formed to distribute alcoholic beverages on the club plan, and thus evade the prohibitory ordinance.

Several weeks ago legal authority was engaged to look into the situation, and, as a result, an ordinance was introduced at the council meeting Tuesday evening which, it is believed, will close up the Commercial Club, and thus end the last resort of the liquor-dealers of the city.

Do it today.

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advise we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.
