STRIKE KILLS COMMERCE

Costing Chicago Sixty Thousand a Day

Gompers Calling for a Poll of Federated Trades Council

Chicago May 5.—Besides paralyzing commerce causing death or injury to a score of people daily on an average, the teamsters' strike is entailing a daily cost of $60,000 on the city government, the strikers and the employers. The daily police bill aggregates $8000. The extra deputies sheriff are costing the county $3000 a day, while the employers are expending $15,000 a day on wages of strike-breakers. Private detectives are also a big item. Aside from loss of ages, the teamsters are said to be expending $3000 daily in maintaining the strike. Loss of business and other incidentals easily makes the total $60,000 daily. After a conference, Mayor Dunne and Sheriff arrett decided upon deputies sheriff as being in harmony for the best interests of the city. The sheriff has announced that he will ask for state troops in case he cannot control the disorderly element. The governor has practically left the matter of calling for troops to the local authorities. Chief O'Neil this morning ordered the arrest of all persons who persistently followed wagons manned by strike-breakers. It is believed that this order will have a marked tendency to prevent disorders. Huge caravans of wagons started out this morning under police guards. During the first two hours there were only minor disturbances.

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor is taking a poll of the executive council on the proposition to attempt a settlement of the Chicago strike. His decision is expected by tomorrow.

A large number of pickets was stationed about the yards of the Peabody Coal Co. this morning for the purpose of preventing deliveries to the Union Traction Company. About 100 negro teamsters were taken to the yards under police escort. South Water street commission met this morning, and requested the express companies to begin delivery and collection of consignments in the street, despite the threat of the union teamsters to quit if the attempt was made. The commission men claim they are losing $100,000 a day.

Strike Still Spreads.
Thirty drivers of the Walsh-Boyle Grocery Co. struck this morning, because two of their number were discharged for refusing to deliver goods to the boycotted houses. Teamsters of four other grocery firms are expected to go out today.

Strike Grows Worse.
Four men were arrested as a result of a riot at 49th street and Lawrence avenue, in which two wagons of Marshall, Field & Co. were attacked by 100 strikers and sympathizers. The drivers of the National Lead Co. and Heath, Milligan & Co. joined the strikers today. Out of 175 strike-breakers who left Kansas City on the Rock Island train, only 32 arrived in Chicago. The others deserted when informed that there was a strike on in Chicago. Labor leaders and others to the number of 100, who were named in Judge Kohlman's strike injunction, today, through attorneys, challenged the legality of the injunction order, which denied the right of a master in chancery to take their testimony. The question will be argued before Kohlman Tuesday.

UNION PACIFIC STOCK

Will Be Issued to the Amount of One Hundred Millions

Salt Lake, May 5.—While no union Pacific officials will talk, it is asserted that opposition to the present issuance of $100,000,000 preferred stock will be withdrawn, and this afternoon favorable action will be taken at the stockholders' meeting. The avowed object of the meeting is believed here to be an effort to secure the Chicago & Northwestern, with a view to getting better access to Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard.

Talks With Farmers.

A. Bates, of the Rosedale district, was in the city today, and says that the crop of prunes in that section will not be as large as usual, but the sizes will be above the average, and the growers will make as much off the crop as last year.

Breese Gibson, of Polk county, was in the city today, and says the hop yards are a little backward on account of the cool weather. The stand is fine, except in some of the old yards, where it is weak and spotty.

A report comes from Silverton showing the aphid in the wheat and some on the hops. Bright weather will cure the latter it is believed.

Christ Giese a German farmer in the Pratum hills says there is a good outlook for all kinds of grain and fruit. There have been several showers in that part of the county and all grain looks fine.

A. B. Rhoten was in from West Stayton today making arrangements for the farmers' institute program there on May 19th and 20th. He says rain is very much needed to bring up the late spring grain.

Mike Egan of Brooks, was up today, and says the old hop yards show signs of weakening the past two years. There are many missing hills.

Mrs. Adam Ohmart, who is running two farms south of the city, says all grain crops are coming on fine, but rain would be very much appreciated.

COUGAR KILLED AT LOWELL.

M. T. Crow's Horse Became Frightened at the Carcass and Ran Away.

Eugene May 4.—M. T. Crow arrived down from Lowell on the afternoon train, with the carcass of a big cougar which had been killed near the Hyland place by a man named Veach.

Mr. Crow drove from Lowell to Goshen in a buggy. The horse, scenting the dead cougar in the vehicle, became frightened and ran away, throwing Mr. Crow out. One of his wrists was dislocated, and his face was badly scratched. He expects to sell the hide of the cougar to some one who will have it mounted.

Depot Display at Medford.

Roseburg, May 5.—Mr. F. J. Blakely, who returned a few days ago from the East, spent Wednesday in Medford on business. He finds the people of Jackson county much more active than those here at present, in making known the natural advantages and resources by which they are surrounded. An elegant building has just been erected at the E. P. R. R. depot, in which is to be placed a fine display of products of that county, for the inspection of passengers on all trains passing through this portion of the state. That county is also spending about $8000 in making a fine exhibit and advertising its resources at the Lewis and Clark fair.

Chicago Markets.

Chicago, May 5.—Cash wheat, 91½; 91¼; corn, 48½@48¼; oats, 29¼@29½.

CHARTER OF THEIR LIBERTIES

To Be Promulgated by the Russians

Trouble on the Caspian Sea Movement of Fleets

St. Petersburg, May 5.—Representatives of 34 of the Zemstvos are holding a secret meeting at Moscow today, in the face of an order positively prohibiting such meetings. The delegates propose to promulgate a charter of Russian liberties.

Trouble in the South.

St. Petersburg, May 5.—Several hundred soldiers at Sevastopol have revolted and resisted the troops sent to restore order. In the fight which followed many were killed and wounded.

Russian Fleets to Meet.

St. Petersburg, May 5.—It is reported here that Rojstvensky has sailed south and met Nebogotoff. It is also reported that a Japanese division of fast cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers went south to engage Nebogotoff. They took up a position in the straits of Sunda. Nebogotoff, finding the straits blockaded, headed north and entered the China sea by the straits of Malacca.

Nebogotoff Got Off.

Singapore, May 5.—Nebogotoff's squadron was sighted this morning going very fast in an easterly direction. It is expected that he will proceed to Saigon for provisions and coal, before sailing for Rojstvensky's rendezvous.

Tiflis, Caucasia, May 5.—Ten thousand domestics and waiters in this city struck today.

Tomsk, Western Siberia, May 5.—Martial law was declared at the collieries of Angern and Souzja.

Warsaw, May 5.—Work was resumed in many factories today, despite the efforts of the Social Democrats to induce a general strike.

Warsaw, May 5.—Inspector Abrahamovich, who was regarded by the people as responsible for the massacres of May 1st, was found dead today with five bullets in his body.

St. Petersburg, May 5.—It is rumored that the Russian armored cruiser Gromovoi has left Vladivostok.

Latest Telegrams.

Albany, N. Y., May 5.—The senate today passed a bill extending the term of mayor and other elective officers of New York City from two to four years. The bill does not affect the present administration.

Milwaukee, May 5.—The preliminary hearing of Former Assistant Cashier Goll, of the First National Bank, was continued today for ten days. Meantime he was released on $15,000 bail.

Chicago, May 5.—That Mrs. Marie Hoch, on her deathbed, was jealous of her own sister, Mrs. Fisher, and that she had cause for this jealousy, was brought out today in the testimony of Miss Holzapfel, the nurse, who attended Mrs. Hoch before her death. Her statements concerning the symptoms of Mrs. Hoch were damaging to the defendant. Hoch displayed more nervousness today than he has shown at any time since his arrest.

Paris, May 5.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Rojstvensky has informed the Russian admiralty of the presence of Japanese warships in territorial waters of the Dutch portion of the Island of Borneo. If the report is verified, Russia will protest to the Netherlands government.

New York, May 5.—In quashing the indictments of Smith and wife, for alleged conspiracy, Judge Foster gave the district attorney permission to resubmit the case to a grand jury. Smith's wife is to remain in the Tombs, pending the decision of the district attorney. The judge severely criticized the grand jury for returning an indictment without sufficient evidence of conspiracy.

Has Lived a Century.

Findlay, O., May 5.—Mrs. Anna Bullock Dewey, living in the town of Wharton, celebrated her 100th birthday today. Born in Vermont, May 5, 1805, she early removed to Ohio, and for half a century has lived in this county. Notwithstanding her great age, Mrs. Dewey enjoys fair health. She eats three hearty meals each day, and passes most of her time in reading her large print Bible.

ITALIAN MURDERER HANGED

In the State Penitentiary Execution Chamber at Noon

Frank Guglielmo, the Portland Italian, was hanged at 12:30 today at the execution chamber at the state prison. Preparing for Death.

Shortly before the time set for the execution Guglielmo delivered two prayer books to Superintendent James to give to his fellow prisoner, Lauth, who is so soon to follow him to that unknown shore. He also wrote three letters, which he desired Supt. James to mail after his death to the following persons: Eugene Jarres, Portland, Oregon; Mr. B. Leanetti, Beaverton, Oregon; and Mr. Joe Marak, No. 163, Park street, Portland. All the forenoon he was afforded consolation and given strength to bear the trying ordeal by Father Faber, pastor of the Catholic church in this city, and even as he stood upon the platform for the last time Rev. Faber was there to give him courage to go through with the terrible trial.

The Death March.

Promptly at 12:30 p. m., the condemned youth, accompanied by his attendants, started on his last journey. He was pale, but comparatively calm, as he walked along the narrow walk, and ascended the stairs to the gallows. He was smoking a cigar, and before the noose was placed around his neck asked that he might speak a few words. He said, in effect, that he fully realized the crime for which he was about to die was one for which the death penalty could be the only proper and adequate atonement, yet, in almost the same breath, blamed the governor and all those in authority for not giving him a pardon. He further said that justice could not be obtained here in America, and that no jury in the mother country would convict him. He grew weaker toward the last, and grasped the railing for support, and tears filled his eyes. When he finished speaking he turned to the attendants and signified his readiness. Just before the cap was adjusted, he threw the cigar down into the crowd below, "for a souvenir," he said. The noose was quickly tied, and as the hands of the clock pointed to within 17 minutes of 1 o'clock the trap was sprung and Frank Guglielmo was no more.

The body was left suspended for 14½ minutes, when Dr. Earle, the health officer at Astoria, officially pronounced him dead. The body was then cut down and placed in a casket. It will be shipped to Portland this afternoon, where relatives will take charge of it. About 40 persons witnessed the execution.

History of the Case.

On June 14, 1904, Frank Guglielmo called to see Freda Guarascia, at her home on Harrison and 6th streets, in Portland, Or., to whom he had been engaged to be married. He had been forbidden to call by Freda's father, but went clandestinely. On going into the house he told Freda's little sister to go outside, and when they were alone they conferred over the broken engagement. The girl told the defendant that she had no further use for him, and that she wanted him to leave her alone, and not to molest her any further, whereupon he drew a revolver and shot her, the shot causing instant death. Guglielmo was arrested the next day, and an information was filed charging him with murder. The district attorney was not in Portland at the time, and the information was prepared, signed and filed by H. B. Adams, the chief deputy, who had charge of the office during the absence of the district attorney. On a plea of not guilty the trial jury found the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The court adjudged that he suffer death, and he appealed.

The trial began June 23rd, and was concluded on the last day of the month. Thirty-six witnesses were examined during the trial. On July 13th, last, Judge Cleland sentenced Guglielmo to be hanged on Wednesday, August 17th. The condemned man was taken to the penitentiary, when his attorneys appealed the case and he was returned to the county jail. The supreme court after carefully reviewing the points involved in the case sustained the decision of the lower court and the youth was returned to the penitentiary to await death, which was set for May 5, 1905.

Tremendous efforts were made by

HILL NEEDS COAL

And Uncle Sam Has His Lockers Full

Washington, May 5.—Owing to a shortage of coal in the Far East, due to the war, President Hill, of the Great Northern, has requested of the navy department permission to purchase from the American naval supply in the Orient enough to supply the steamship Minnesota on her return trip to the Pacific coast. It is said the request will be granted.

DICKENS IS NOT GUILTY

McMinnville, (Special)—May 5.—"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury last evening in the case of John T. Dickens, of Sheridan, Or., charged with the murder of Marvin L. Potter, November 14, 1904, on the streets of his home town. The jury was out about five hours.

James McCain consumed about one and a half hours in pleading the case for the defendant.

Roswell Connor made the opening speech for the state. His presentation of the case was fair and concise, but short, not occupying over 20 minutes.

G. C. Brownell made the first plea for the defendant. He covered the ground thoroughly from the first acquaintance of Potter with the Dickens family until the tragedy occurred. His speech made a strong impression.

Brief Telegrams.

The New Market, England, 1000 guinea stakes for 3-year-old fillies was won by W. Hall Walker's "Cherry Lass."

The Carlisle, Ky., grand jury today returned indictments against the Standard Oil Company, for peddling oil without a license.

TWO THIRDS FAVORED

Acquittal of Nan Patterson as First Published

Chorus Girl's Confidence in Justice of Married Jurors Was not Shattered

New York, May 5.—It is almost positively known that the Nan Patterson jury stood eight to four for acquittal. The indictments for conspiracy against J. Morgan Smith and wife were quashed this morning. One jurymen said today: "No member of the jury believed that Young shot himself." Nan Patterson's condition is improved today, but she is still ill. Attorney Levy called at the office of the district attorney this morning, but found no one there with authority to act in the girl's behalf. Levy thinks that only nominal bail will be required. He thinks the indictment will be quashed soon after her release on bail.

SNOWING UPON TEDDY

Glenwood Springs, Colo., May 5.—Several inches of snow fell over night in the country where the President is hunting, but Secretary Loeb thinks adverse weather will prolong, rather than shorten the hunt. There is no news from the camp today.

Blew Out the Gas.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—The senate this afternoon killed the bill giving municipalities the right to fix the price of gas by a vote of 24 to 16.
