Smiles From the Typewriter

Salem should have a public library building.

It was a warm frost that the Portlanders got at Salem.

Watch Hearst pull Billy Bryan out of the running for the presidency in 1908.

The only bloody warfare in this country the past year was at the polls in the Quaker City of Peace—Philadelphia.

There are no strings, muzzles or padlocks on the speakers at the Willamette Valley Development League Conventions.

There are some men whose political affairs have been so badly mismanaged it would take a miraculous receivership to revive them.

This paper has adopted a new rule. Grafters will not be given publicity, except in their true colors, and in connection with their graft.

If that band can play on 24 hours' notice as well as they did Tuesday evening, what could they not do if they were in existence a month?

The Portland Journal plays up the statement as a fact that there is a difference of nine cents in the price of hops in New York and Oregon, and freight is 2 1/2 cents. The Journal can make some money right quick.

The Albany Argus, by Paul B. Johnston, is a warm little weekly with incisive editorials and paragraphs of interest to the politicians. Judging from the "i" in his name the editor has a strain of the Hibernian in his name that accounts for his wit.

No public man is well advertised outside of the newspapers. The collection of sign boards on the stumps and trees on the public roads leading into Salem reads like a directory of the

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has won success far beyond the effect of advertising only.

The secret of its wonderful popularity is explained by its unapproachable merit.

Based upon a prescription which cured people considered incurable, Hood's Sarsaparilla unites the best-known vegetable remedies, by such a combination, proportion and process as to have curative power peculiar to itself.

Its cures of scrofula, eczema, psoriasis, and every kind of humor, as well as catarrh and rheumatism—prove Hood's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier ever produced. Its cures of dyspepsia, loss of appetite and that tired feeling make it the greatest stomach tonic and strength-restorer the world has ever known.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a thoroughly good medicine. Begin to take it TODAY. Get HOOD'S.

A SAVINGS BANK

Is a valuable servant of the people.

It takes their small earnings and invests them safely, making them earn a reasonable income. It relieves the depositor of the worry and risk of managing his own funds; in other words it shifts the responsibility from his own shoulders to that of the bank.

Thrifty, careful people, who prefer a safe, sure proposition to the many "get rich quick" schemes should take advantage of the facilities afforded by our Savings Bank Department.

departed, with occasionally the name of a survivor among them. Moral: Only live men are advertised in the newspapers.

Until they have some assurance that a corporation means business, the farmers and owners of rights of way better be slow about donating or signing away their lands to electric and other traction companies. The newspapers are filled with proposed schemes, mostly consisting of the enterprise of enterprising promoters, who are trying to get hold of something to dispose of to some one else.

The president's recent order permitting the head of a department to summarily remove any clerk or official under him was a much needed check to the encroachments of red-tape officialdom under the guise of the highly protected civil service. If it has become impossible for a postmaster or any man in charge of an important trust of the government to remove anyone under him, the very cornerstone of a good public service is destroyed. No official or clerk or employe should be protected against public sentiment or political influence when it is directed to the end of improving public service.

Landlord Conner, of the Hotel Willamette, deserves a great big credit mark. He donated the use of his splendid hotel parlors and dining room, and decorated them beautifully with flowers and flags, and donated the time of his entire force of trained employes to make the reception to the Portland business men a great success. The knockers and the kickers, who have never had a good word for the Willamette hotel, should take a reef in the sails of their activity for awhile, at least, until they can find opportunity to do something-half as generous and public-spirited as Landlord Conner has done. And it is not the first time he has done it.

Some one jumps onto John D. Densmore of Yew Park for maintaining a stock yard and cattle scales out in Depot addition somewhere. Mr. Densmore is a cattle buyer and has shipped out of Salem $10,000 worth of live stock in the past few months. That kind of business men are to be encouraged. We need more of them. The city council should look after the cleanliness and health of the city, but if we had ten men carrying on stock yards and cattle shipments with as much enterprise as Mr. Densmore it would be a good thing for the town. A stockyard is not a geranium but it means making Salem a better market.

F. R. Blackerby and Gus Bock, of Silverton, were in Salem seeing friends Monday. The first named gentleman is understood to be slated for postmaster next spring and Mr. Bock aspires to a place on the legislative ticket. A. G. Steelhammer and H. D. Mount are also mentioned for the legislature. Lou J. Adams has severed his connection with the bank and may make the run for state senator. All these gentlemen are worthy Republicans and that live town is conceded to be entitled to a place on the makeup of the next Republican ticket. As usual it presents a multiplicity of aspirants that may defeat them all. If it were a matter of good looks Gus Bock has them all skinned, besides being a bachelor.

X-RAYS

The red fire last night loomed up through the fog—like a pink tea.

Life insurance is like a tight shoe, the tighter it is the worse it hurts.

Strange how quickly those insurance thieves repay $685,000, without a murmur. They were caught with the stolen goods, and there was nothing else for them to do but give up the plunder.

The Insurance Journal says: "Time is Money." Of course it alluded to McCall's, McCurdy's and Hyde's time. That kind is almost worth its weight in diamonds.

Oregon Hops Best, but do not Command the Price of the New York Crop

Does custom create an unreasonable demand? Or has the use of New York hops for 50 years and more by brewers of this country led to a discrimination in price between the Eastern and Oregon product? This is what hop men of the state are eager to have answered properly. A differential of 7 to 8 cents exists today in favor of the New York hop, and growers of this state are asking why?

Dealers, questioned this morning by a reporter for The Journal, were unwilling to speak about the matter. They would not admit that there was any superiority in the New York hop, that justified the difference in price. Everyone said that the Oregon hop was unexcelled by any grown in the United States.

But they did explain the discrepancy in value. It is only a matter of demand, created not by quality, but by custom. In other words, Eastern brewers have so long been accustomed to use the New York hop in beer manufacture, that, with a conservatism unusual in American business men, they refuse to make any change, or even try a different hop. Dealers say that, even now, when Oregon hops have been a staple on the market for over ten years, many brewers have not tried to learn their value in the brewing of beer. They still persist in buying New York hops, and are willing to pay from 4 to 7 cents more per pound, if it is necessary, to get them.

Hon. H. H. Von der Hellen, of Wellen, has received the first consignment of books for a free library at his place. A bill was passed at the last session of the legislature providing for the purchase of books for a free circulating library for the rural districts of this state. After they have been at Wellen six months, they will be sent to another town, and a fresh lot sent to Wellen.

"DO IT TO-DAY!"

"And to think that ten months ago I looked like that! I owe it to German Syrup."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or bronchitis cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY—let that remedy be Dr. Busch's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption is attached your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
