OFFICIAL CENSUS SALEM, MAY, 1904, 13,287.

EDITORIAL TRUTHS TERSELY TOLD

Senator Fulton's friends secured a very handsome endorsement of that gentleman's political course as representative in the upper house of the national congress...

able action at its last session on an ordinance to change the present prohibitive system. While the proper auction policy of any city is a mooted question, there is no justice in depriving the city of all revenues from this source.

The auctioneers' license should be drafted so that the city would secure some revenue from that source. No one will go farther in the policy of destroying evils and abuses than we will, but when they are of such a character that the business connected with them will be carried on under other forms...

Instead of passing more drastic ordinances of a prohibitive character the city authorities should have better regulations and extend the license system over what cannot be exterminated in any community. The drinking habits and social vices of any free people are only wiped out by education and reformation of the individual...

The work of driving the piling for the big bridge just north of the city goes forward with great rapidity. When that is done and the rails laid over it there will be put on a large force of graders, a construction train, and the road will be pushed north as fast as men and money can make it go.

The city of Salem could be receiving thousands of dollars of license and license tax several mills, or use the additional revenue for street construction, which is badly needed. The present auctioneers' license brings the city no revenue whatever, and is not in keeping with the policy of other cities.

for Democrats, they are trying to bolster themselves up by anonymous defense, but the people see through the whole matter, and are slow to accept the lame attempts at justification.

They Ran Into Trouble. The express team of M. S. Senstrom became frightened at the train yesterday afternoon, and made a short but lively run. They attempted to make a straight run north on Twelfth street, but, on reaching the corner of Twelfth and Mill, a buggy, which was being repaired at the blacksmith shop, was in the way, and not having time to go around it, they attempted to go through and over it, with disastrous results.

DYSPEPSIA-PROOF. How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed by Any Stomach. Men, as a rule are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will lie in being able to stand the flash.

Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Mr. Dyspepsia Black ordered crackers and a glass of milk, "I had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. White could not be deceived; "I am afraid you can't stand the gleam, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll always have that hungry look anyhow as long as you have dyspepsia. Now listen. My stomach was in just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder or sirloin steak or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirit, of your energy and ability to think quickly. I can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do." And thereat the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet. "There, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient one grain of which digests 2000 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. The reason is it relieves the stomach of nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juice. I can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package."

Moorhouses' Famous Pictures. Major Leo Moorhouse, Oregon's famous producer of Indian pictures, has presented a copy of his "Indian Photographs" to each of the supreme court justices. This little book is one of the finest things that has been put out in the state and the gifts were greatly appreciated by the justices. On the front cover of the book, done in colors, are the "Cayuse Twins," which have a fame that is world wide, while the frontispiece, "The Last Outpost of a Dying Race," is among the best things that Moorhouse has done. Every one of the photographs in the book is a masterpiece, and in addition there are a number of poems by Bert Huffman and others. Moorhouse is making, not only himself and the Unatilla Indian, but the state of Oregon, famous, by his Indian pictures.

THE EASY OIL. Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for their stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one having a regard for their health will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

Needs Praying For. Mrs. Parkman (from Chicago)—I see that when their religious Turks pray they always turn their faces toward the east. Mr. Parkman—Gosh! They must read the New York papers!—Puck.
