

OVERLAND DELAYED TWO DAYS

Cave-in at California Interrupts Through Transportation on Southern Pacific

An immense cave-in in tunnel No. 6, on the Sacramento division of the Southern Pacific has delayed through transportation on the line from here to San Francisco for two days or more.

The north bound train passing here this afternoon will not be the overland, but will consist of a stub train made up at Ashland.

The officials of the railroad are working with all possible rapidity to remove the debris from the tunnel and until that is done will transfer passengers and give the very best possible service under the circumstances.

It is probable that all mail and express matter will be transferred and will come as usual; but it is not expected that through freight will come for several days.

Call on F. E. Shafe, at his new store, 187 Commercial street, near Ferry. The finest stock of harness in Salem.

GROCERS WON.

Hatch Pitched Like a Professional, and They Couldn't Hit Him.

Great are the Grocers, and great is their baseball aggregation, which trounced the Woolen Mills' players in yesterday's baseball match by the score of 6 to 1. The Grocers' victory was in a large measure due to the excellent pitching of Hatch who delivered the sphere in fine shape and with the skill of a professional. Not until the third inning did the score keeper put down anything on the blackboard, and then he scored four for the grocers and one for the Woolen Mills. There were no many features, but every man was in the game to play his best, and the crowd in the grand stand enjoyed the contest thoroughly.

Batteries, Woolen Mills, Bowen and Sheridan; Grocers, Hatch and West.

Sold Nine Machines.

Ed. Martin of Turner reports selling nine Osborne harvesters in seven days. He has also had four men at work in his blacksmith and machine shop a good share of the time. He says the electric line is a sure thing.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Fairmount Club Entertains.
The annual picnic of the Fairmount Club of South Salem was given Tuesday evening at Fairmount park. The grounds were lighted with numbers of Japanese lanterns, and the picnic grounds were enclosed with garlands of the club colors, purple and white. Across the entrance was a huge pennant of the club, bearing the letters "F. C."

Games of all kinds were played during the time, and phonographic music was a pleasing feature. Refreshments were served during the evening by the Misses Hoyt, Kelly and Keeton. Miss Jessie Keeton presided at the punch bowl.

The affair was highly successful and over seventy young people were present.

The members of the club are, Guy Hoyt, Everett Arnold, Elmer Dae, Willie Daniels, George Keeton, John Humphreys, Fred Engle, Ray West, Paul Rasmussen and Leo Page.

Social Life at "The Maples."
What is proving to be a pleasure ground for Salem people is "The Maples" across the river near West Salem. The Sunday night band concerts are largely attended and during the week a large number of people visit the place. W. W. Zinn, the candy man, has a refreshment stand, and a number of Salem people are camped there. Among those are, E. W. Stahl and wife at "Dew Drop Inn," R. W. Holman and family "Camp I'm Guilty," Mrs. A. Eaton and daughters and Miss Louise Cronise at "Camp Mapleine," Chas. Dennison and Harry Cronise at "Camp Star."

Others are talking of joining the colony as it is an ideal camping spot. The launches run back and to during the day, and it is a handy spot, as well as a pleasure to be in.

Trolley Party.
The first Baptist church gave a trolley ride last evening throughout the city, and a most enjoyable time was had.

GREAT PRUNE CROPS

If Enough Fruit Falls the Quality Will Also be the Best

There is no doubt whatever but the present prune crop in Oregon will be the greatest ever known in quantity, and everything begins to look as though it would prove the richest crop in quality that has ever been produced in the world. To start with the trees were too heavily loaded to ever bear up the crop, but the clear hot weather of several weeks ago started the growing fruit to fall, and it is now hoped that enough will have dropped off before the ripening process begins to enable the fruit to grow to the largest possible size. Enough has already dropped to insure a good quality, and appearance; would indicate that even more room will be made on the trees for the expansion of the fruit.

H. S. Gile, of the Willamette Valley Prune Growers' Association, says that he hopes for fair prices before the crop is completed. About half of the crop has already been sold at good prices, but, as there has been a severe slump, it is possible that dealers may find some difficulty in making deliveries at the high prices contracted for. He also thinks that the quality will be so good that it will force prices to the highest notch that the market conditions will bear. England is getting to be a good market for Oregon prunes. The fruit is getting recognition on account of its superior quality, and since efforts are being made to pack it properly there is no trouble in getting recognition for it.

When Love Passed By.
I was busy with my plowing
When Love passed by.
"Come," she cried, "forsake thy drudging;
Life's delights are few and grudging;
What has man for all his striving,
All his planning and contriving,
Here beneath the sky?
When the grave opens to receive him
Wealth and wit and honors leave him—
Love endures for aye!"
But I answered: "I am plowing.
When with straight and even furrow
All the field is covered thorough,
I will follow."
Love passed by.

I was busy with my sowing.
When Love passed by.
"Come," she cried, "give o'er thy toiling;
For thy moid thou hast but moiding—
Follow me, where meadows fertile
Bloom unsworn with rose and myrtle,
Laughing to the sky;
Laugh for joy the thousand flowers
Birds and brooks—the laughing
hours
All unnoted fly!"
But I answered: "I am sowing.
When my acres all are planted,
Gladly to thy realm enchanted
I will follow."
Love passed by.

I was busy with my reaping.
When Love passed by.
"Come," she cried, "thou planted'st grieving,
Ripened sorrows art thou sheaving.
If the heart lay fallow, vainly Garnered store. Thy wealth of grain in Less than Love's least sign.
Haste thee—for the hours fast
dwindle
Ere the pyre of Hope shall kindle
In life's western sky."
But I answered: "I am reaping.
When with song of youth and maiden,
Home the hock-cart, comes, full-
laden,
I will follow."
Love passed by.

I had gathered in my harvest,
When Love passed by.
"Stay," I called—to her, swift speeding,
Turning not, my cry unheeding—
"Stay, O Love, I fain would follow,
Stay thy flight, oh, fleet-winged swallow
Cleaving twilight sky!
I am old and worn and weary,
Void my fields and heart—and
dreary,
With thee would I fly.
Garnered woe is all my harvest,
Sad ghosts of my dead hopes
haunt me,

MRS. VIOLA MARSHALL.
MRS. MARSHALL SUFFERED WITH SYSTEMIC CATARRH. PE-RU-NA SAVED HER.

Mrs. Viola Marshall, 1117 East Jackson street, Springfield, Ill., writes: "Two months ago when I sought your advice, and you told me that I was suffering from systemic catarrh, I had gotten so bad that I could not bear the jolt of walking and had to lie down most of the time."

"I began taking your Peruna and now I feel like a new woman. "I can walk just as far as I please without feeling any fatigue and I have taken only three bottles of Peruna. "I shall never cease praising Peruna, nor thanking Dr. Hartman for his kind advice."

Systemic catarrh claims many victims because this disease is not always understood, and therefore not correctly treated. What is needed is an internal catarrh remedy which exerts a healing effect on the mucous membranes of the entire body.

Such a remedy is Peruna. The sincere letters of those who have experienced its benefits in such cases are evidence of its medicinal value.

Fierce regrets, like demons, taunt me—
Stay!—I follow!
Love passed by.
—Solomon Solis-Cohen.

Victor Point Paragraphs.
Harvest is very early. With few exceptions the grain in the hills is all cut. The talk of Hessian fly vs. aphids is all gone, and instead farmers are jubilant and talking 40 and 50 bushels to the acre. Krenze & Fisher have started their thresher.

Mrs. I. G. Scott, one of the victims of the San Francisco disaster, and who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Frances Small, since that time, returned to the ill-fated city last Monday. She will join her husband, who has found employment there.

Grandma Miller, who has been visiting relatives in Turner and Silverton for the past six weeks, is at home again. Her many friends are glad to welcome her back.

Misses Ella Savage and Maggie McClellan, who are visiting in this neighborhood, returned to their school in Salem last week.

STATE NEWS
Some of the valley farmers are harvesting by moonlight, in cases where the grain demands immediate attention. This is the result of the scarcity of harvest hands.

F. E. Holman, of Silverton, was badly bruised last week in a runaway. The team became unmanageable while going down a steep hill and started to run. In making a sharp turn in the road Mr. Holman was hurled out of the vehicle, and down an embankment of 30 feet.

Mermals Take Notice.
The Monmouth band under the leadership of Burns Powell arrived Monday evening and for the next month will add an extra charm and enjoyment to the beach that will be highly appreciated—Yaquina Bay News.
