HERMANN'S CASE GOES TO JURY

PROSECUTOR SEVERELY SCORES

Wife and Daughter Sitting At His Side in the Court Room

Washington, April 26.—Accusing Hermann of destroying public records for illegal purposes, in alleged conspiracy with Mitchell, Benson, and Diamond, District Attorney Baker closed the government's case today. Standing before Herrmann, whose wife and daughter are seated beside him, pointing finger at defendant, Baker characterized him as a man who had sold his soul for money, charged him with knowledge of the illegality of the Puterbaugh case, which passed through the hands of the late commissioner, and accused him of being the paid tool of the late commissioner. He asked any answers made by the defendant on the stand. Baker demanded: "Hermann's purpose in destroying 35 letter press books was to cover up his tracks, not because it would be expensive to ship them to the printer. If any man of you was fired from your job under a cloud, would you have destroyed records that would prove your innocence?" Baker demanded a demand for a verdict of guilty. Justice Stafford ordered the jury.

NORFOLK FAIR HAS SUNSHINE

ALMOST A PANIC IN THE CROWDS

Only Averted by Prompt Action of the Military Force.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—A cloudless sky, just enough breeze from the bay to keep the sun from burning up the crowds; glistening white ships, 52 men-of-war in line at daybreak, made the grandest picture of fighters at rest ever seen in American waters. The ships with excursionists and official visitors began to arrive early.

Almost a Panic.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—While President Tucker was making his opening speech a panic occurred in the great crowd before the grand stand. For a time it looked as though women and children would be trampled to death. The exhibition guards and regular troops in line nearby rushed in and quitted the swaying mass of humanity. Serious results were thus averted.

Crowds Woefully Small.

The President arrived in Hampton Roads and reviewed the fleets. He was transferred to a naval launch

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DELIVERS THE ADDRESS

AT FORMAL OPENING OF THE EXPOSITION

Discusses Composite American Race and Touches Upon the Problems of the Future Republic

Jamestown, April 26.—President Roosevelt opened the exposition in honor of the founding of Jamestown, and following are interesting parts of his speech:

Touches England and Ireland.

In welcoming all of you I must say a special word, first to the representative of the people of Great Britain and Ireland. The fact so many of our people, of whom as it happens I myself am one, have but a very small portion of English blood in our veins, in no way alters the other fact that this nation was founded by Englishmen, by the Cavalier and the Puritan. Their tongue, law, literature, the fund of their common thought, made an inheritance which all of us share, and marked deep the lines which we have developed. IT WAS THE ENGLISH STOCK WHO DID MOST IN CASTING THE MOLD INTO WHICH THE NATIONAL CHARACTER WAS RUN.

and shortly before noon reached Discovery landing and disembarked. He was received by the exposition management and greeted by the cheers of the multitude. The opening address of President Tucker, from the eminence of three centuries of achievement, reviewed the history of the country, purpose of the exposition, eulogized Fitzhugh Lee, who was largely responsible for the present triumph. He sketched the cause that led to the settlement, enumerated the principles which moved the colonies, said the lesson of today is that of honest introspection, that we may inquire how far our conduct is controlled by the principles for which our fathers fought. The attendance, although large, was woefully small, compared to other expositions. This is on account of delayed excursion steamers, only one pier being ready for landing.

Pleasures of Travel to the Exposition

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—Mrs. Edwin Warfield, wife of Maryland's governor, en route to the exposition, aboard the steamer Columbia, awoke last night to find a negro bending over her bed in her state room. Her screams attracted the deck hands, and the negro plunged through the window, and cannot be located.

President Pardons William January.

Washington, April 26.—One of the last official acts of the President before going to Jamestown was to call for the papers in the case of William January, who was remanded to Leavenworth prison, from which he escaped and lived respectably married at Kansas City, under the name of Anderson. It is believed January will be pardoned.

The Hermann case went to the jury at 3:30 this afternoon.

VERBATIM STATEMENT PUBLISHED

BRIBE MONEY HANDED IN BY RUEF

Scaly Political Boss Held Up the Corporations for Large Sums

San Francisco, April 26.—The publication in the Call this morning of the full text of the confession of ABRAHAM RUEF. San Francisco boss, who has been indicted on scores of counts, charged with bribery and other offenses.

the supervisors has created as great a sensation as when the story of corruption was first laid bare before the grand jury, and made public the day following the confessions. Verbatim statements as published today completely substantiate the unofficial statements published March 19. The principal confession is that of Supervisor Gallagher, who swore that all the bribe money, with the exception of that given by Theo. Halsey, of the Pacific States Telephone Company, was passed to him by Ruef, and he (Gallagher) in turn passed it to the supervisors. One of the interesting features not before published is Mayor Schmitz's activity in the matter of the Home Telephone franchise. According to the confession he repeatedly urged the supervisors to vote for the franchise, both before and after the supervisors were informed that there would be "something in it" for them. It is not unlikely the grand jury will investigate the manner in which a copy of the verbatim statement was secured.

EUGENE E. SCHMITZ. Mayor of San Francisco, indicted for alleged grafting and prominent in the settlement of the Japanese school question.

Attorney John Jeffries, of Portland, is in the city on legal business.

HENEY IS THREATENED FOR LIBEL

ROASTED HEBBARD AT STANFORD

Says Ruef Is Only An Understudy of William F. Herren

San Francisco, April 26.—Superior Judge Hebbard today secured a warrant for the arrest of Heney, charged with criminal libel. In a speech at Stanford University last night Heney referred to Hebbard as one of Ruef's henchmen. He also referred to what he termed Hebbard's unfitness to sit on the bench, intimating he was not always swayed by law in rendering his decisions. In the same address Heney denounced W. F. Herren, the Southern Pacific attorney, as being the real boss of San Francisco, declaring Ruef was merely his understudy.

BATTLING OVER LEGAL TECHNICALITIES

Consumed All the Fine in McManus Murder Trial

Pendleton, April 26.—(Special to The Capital Journal)—With exception that a few witnesses were allowed to state that the reputation of Estes for honesty was bad, Attorneys for the defense in the McManus murder trial were not allowed to introduce testimony for the purpose of showing up the character of deceased. This ruling of the court is a victory for the prosecution and will tend to hasten the close of the trial. Witnesses brought from a distance, at great expense, were not permitted to answer a single material question. The entire afternoon was consumed in the calling of witnesses, asking questions, making objections and saving exceptions. Nothing was accomplished. The defense will close tomorrow.

Hebbard Refused a Warrant. A warrant was refused to Hebbard, who went to police headquarters, where he flourished a revolver, declaring he would kill Langdon if a warrant was not issued. He was taken to the chief's office and a guard placed over him. Langdon ordered him arrested if he made further disturbance. Hebbard has been drinking.
