

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

MR. F. BROOKMAN
WIFE AND CHILD.

MRS. J. C. STERLING'S CHILDREN.

and SON.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick. Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family. The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them. Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers
Have discovered that Peruna is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause. Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body. It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Every mother who has not tried Peruna in her family should familiarize herself with Dr. Hartman's booklet, 'The Ills of Life.' This booklet should be in every family. It gives most valuable advice as to the use of Peruna for the various catarrhal diseases so general to-day.

Peruna is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Peruna in High Esteem.
Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly restores the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

Per-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Per-na should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Per-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Per-na Contains No Narcotics.
One reason why Per-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Per-na, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brookman, 813 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:
"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Per-na."
"I would not be without it in the house, now."
"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Per-na for a cold, and my husband also takes Per-na."
"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brookman.

No Doctor Required.
Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Per-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Per-na."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Per-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Per-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Per-na contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Per-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Per-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Per-na are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Per-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Per-na with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Per-na, and we shall always praise Per-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

PARSON HITS THE BULLSEYE

Calls His Flock a Bridge Whist Coterie and Pink Tea Party

Because he appeared in the pulpit wearing unpressed trousers and because his facial lines had impressed some members of his congregation as "harsh and forbidding," the Rev. Dr. James H. Ecob has been forced to resign from the fashionable First Unitarian church, Twenty-first and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia.

Last week Dr. Ecob preached his valedictory sermon, bidding farewell to what he termed "a bridge whist coterie—a pink tea party."

This and many other rhetorical whots apparently hit the bullseye. For from time to time some dignified member of the exclusive congregation would make a hurried exit, nose in the air. The church is one of the oldest and most aristocratic of its denomination in the country, and Dr. Ecob is one of the most democratic of speakers, taking a delight in expressing his views freely on the equality of man.

Hurls Defiance at Outset.
Dr. Ecob took as the topic of his farewell sermon the subject, "The Minister or Today," and as his text Matthew xi, 17, "We have piped unto you and ye have not danced. We have mourned unto you and ye have not lamented."

This was an unmistakably defiant note at the start, but the plain pastor's well dressed hearers settled themselves comfortably, as if confident they could stand it.

"I propose to speak with perfect simplicity and plainness," began the pastor, without a touch of irony in his voice.

"Every denominational conflict, every heresy trial, every parish scandal, every treacherous attack upon a pastor is invariably justified and sanctified by the wornout plea, 'for the good of the church.' Is it not time that some voice were lifted up for the good of the ministry?"

Symptoms of uneasiness were discernable in some of the congregation.

Only "Decorative" Ministers Wanted
"Many ministers are deeply resenting the demand of the church for simply neutral decorative ministry—ministry punctilious, ministry that tiptoes gently and graciously at 4 o'clock teas and smiles benignly at bridge whist tables—ministry whose pulpit utterances have the quality of what is known by country people as 'fox fire,' a pale, phosphorescent glimmer, the product of decayed wood."

At the reference to 5 o'clock teas and bridge whist, two of the nicely gowned women in the congregation marched frowning to the door while others moved uneasily as if inclined to give similar expression to their disapprobation.

"Many churches, especially those called important," went on the undaunted minister, "want in the pulpit only this dim, lambent, innocuous light, the product of venerable decayed thought."

Poor Man Should Avoid Pulpit.
"Another question respecting ministers is that of salary. The average man, without an independent income, has no business in a protestant pulpit. The average wage of the minister is below that of a day laborer. Yet a laborer can live in such a house as he pleases, wear such clothes as he pleases, and fix the scale of his household expenses. But for a minister all these things are determined by the church."

SHE FORGOT.

Halsey Woman Puts Jewels in Stove With Usual Result.

A story of forgetfulness that is seldom equaled is reported by Halsey visitors to Albany to the effect that Mrs. Emma Allen, of that place, became alarmed by the presence of several suspicious looking strangers last Saturday, and being a widow, who lives alone, and with a large sum of money in the house, together with some valuable jewelry, placed money and jewelry in a tin box and deposited them in the firebox of the kitchen range. She forgot her fears of the stranger men with the coming of the dawn, likewise her wealth, and built a fire and got breakfast before she remembered. Her jewelry was ruined. She declines to state what condition she found it in, or how much money she had to burn.

Brownsville Items.

Over one thousand acres more of the famous Calapooia Timber has been gobbled up by large companies, the purchasers were The Stevens-Russell Co., of Portland, the average price $20 per acre. 320 acres of the land belonged to Hon. Chas. E. Ladd of Portland, and the balance to the homesteaders. The sale was made by Brownsville Real Estate Co.

I. G. West from Seaside has just purchased the Hagey farm of 100 acres 2 1/4 miles south of Brownsville; he is going to convert this place into a model dairy farm.

R. A. Smith of Coberg this week purchased 40 acres near Crawfordville. This place is well improved and a fine little home. C. K. Rigens of Falls City was the owner. Mr. Tripp, the real estate man reports that the demand never was so great for small places.

The new creamery is now running full blast.

READY FOR THE FOURTH

Parade, Sham Battle, River Excursion, Fireworks, Ball Games and Music

The Fourth of July committee held another enthusiastic meeting in the Board of Trade rooms last night, reported the various arrangements which have been perfected and suggested ideas for Salem's big celebration.

Del Dinsmore, chairman of the parade committee, reported that the work in his department was progressing nicely, and that many of the features in the big march would be new, and the parade, as a whole, would be a surprise.

He asks that 40 boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years volunteer to help him on the morning of the Fourth. He did not fully explain what would be required of the boys, but said he wanted "40 good, live, patriotic boys" to help in the parade, and that the work would be interesting. The first 40 boys who apply will be given the work.

It was decided to use every effort to eliminate the use of explosive canes. The leading dealers in fireworks in the city have agreed to not sell the torpedo canes on that date, and if any one is found using them on the Salem streets, the nerve-racking device will be immediately confiscated.

A big excursion will be run from Independence to Salem by one of the big river steamboats, which will arrive in Salem at 8 o'clock a. m. This will enable hundreds of Independence people and the citizens of that vicinity to spend the day in Salem.

Rollin K. Page, F. G. Deckebach and Captain Charles Murphy form a committee which has charge of the sham battle that will be fought between the Woodburn and Salem companies.

The baby show committee was voted an additional $15 with which to purchase more prizes. Steps have also been taken for the sprinkling of the streets. It is expected that a carload of oil will arrive in a day or so, and that the same will be applied to the streets, which the owners of property adjoining wish sprinkled. It is advocated by many that water sprinkling will be much more satisfactory than the oil, as the latter would not have time to penetrate the dust that would be carried by the throng to the sidewalks and into the places of business.

Arthur Goss has been awarded the contract to put up the flags across State and Commercial streets, and a motion that all business houses be asked to close at 10:30 a. m. was unanimously carried.

MAKE IT WARM FOR GORDON

Edward Sam Gordon, reputed millionaire lumberman of Coos Bay, has troubles of his own, so if you happen to meet him, don't ask him if it is hot enough for him.

Gordon made a liberal settlement with Bertha Etta Lurch, who claimed for years she was his wife, but he always claims he never married her. Whatever were the facts in that tangle of matrimonial meshes, it was supposed Ed. Sam probably supposed he was free at last. But another woman bobs up—another wife.

This last woman claims to be the only real, genuine, name blown-in-the-bottle Mrs. Ed. Sam Gordon, and hints darkly at bigamy. The two women ate lunch at the same restaurant in Oregon City Tuesday, and, to all outward appearances, were total strangers to each other. It is intimated, however, by people who have talked with both, that if the two claimants to Ed. Sam's love and affection and ducats were to meet privately they would need no introduction, and they wouldn't scrap, either.

Just what the woman last on the scene is after hasn't been disclosed yet, but it is reasonable to presume she will very soon make her wants known.

Gordon first sued Bertha Etta Lurch to quiet title to property here. He recited in his complaint that Etta Lurch had followed him for years, and annoyed him and interfered with his business, by claiming to be his wife, and had a marriage ceremony performed at Vancouver with some man impersonating him. A little later Mrs. Edward Sam Gordon (Bertha Etta Lurch) sued the lumberman for a divorce. By a settlement the first suit was withdrawn, Bertha Etta given a divorce, and Mr. Gordon conveyed to her property in Coos county worth $8000. The deed remains in the safe of Dimick & Dimick, Gordon's attorneys here.

It is freely predicted that the supply of Gordon's wives will keep up as long as his $8000 warranty deeds lasts.—Oregon City Star.

Fell From Bridge.

An accident that may result in serious if not fatal injuries to Charles Myers, son of Conrad Myers, of this city, occurred yesterday morning, when he accidentally stepped backward off the Calapooia bridge leading to Bryant's island, and struck the ground 20 feet below.

By a narrow margin the young man, in his descent, missed striking some heavy timbers which were piled promiscuously beneath, and fell between the timbers. The spot where Myers fell was about 40 feet from the island end of the bridge. Workmen are engaged in repairing the structure, and as a consequence the side railing is torn down.

The dray of the House Furnishing Company was crossing the bridge with a load of refuse, and in stepping aside to avoid the team, it is thought Myers stepped too close to the edge, and missing his footing fell.—Albany Herald.
