GENERAL

OUTLOOK FOR HOPS

Waterville Times and Hop Report's Resume of the Situation

The continued fine summer weather in this state has caused a very satisfactory growth of the vine in all sections, and reports coming in are very much more encouraging than heretofore. Estimates of the yield are being raised, and is now predicted that with continued fine weather we will have a crop very little below the average.

The yards are entirely free of mold, which makes the outlook bright for fine quality. Most of the yards are now in blow, and it is said the hops are blowing out very low on the poles, indicating a heavy yield in proportion to the vine. The coast outlook is unchanged. Some estimates are made as high as 175,000 bales for the Oregon crop, but this is considered excessive by reliable parties. The growing weather in all coast sections has been very favorable. Crop news from England is very conflicting, some reporting the crop to be very backward and estimating the yield as 300,000 cwt.
Other reports are that the vine show a good average growth, and with favorable weather they will grow an average crop and today estimating the crop at 400,000 to 425,000 cwt.
Locally the market for spot hops is lifeless, and the small hand-to-hand demand from brewers is easily supplied from dealers stocks. The coast markets are also quiet, with growers showing a little more anxiety to sell their holdings. From New York State we hear of the sale of the largest remaining lot in growers' hands, amounting to 94 bales at 13 cents to grower.

RATES ARE TOO HIGH

Complaint as to Tariffs On Columbia Southern Branch of O. R. & N.

To the Honorable Railroad Commission of the State of Oregon:

The undersigned, William H.
Biggs, complains and respectfully alleges:

That he has been for more than 20 years last past, a resident of the state of Oregon, and has resided and now resides at Wasco, in the county of Sherman, in said state.

That he is the owner of divers tracts of agricultural land within said county and state, largely devoted to the production of wheat, grain hay and other products; has occasion to travel over the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co.'s lines of railroad within said state, and the prices of his products and that of the supplies used by him are affected by the tariffs, rates and charges of the said railroad corporation.

That the said Oregon Railroad & Navigation owns and operates a branch line of railroad from Biggs on the Columbia river, in the said county of Sherman, to Shaniko, in the county of Wasco, all in said state of Oregon, a distance of about 71 or 72 miles, said branch being formerly known and designated as "The Columbia Southern Railway."

That the passenger tariffs, rates and charges over said branch line of railroad, are four cents per mile, are too high, unreasonable and unjust and ought to be reduced, the service offered being only ordinary.

That the freight tariffs, rates and charges upon said branch line are unreasonable, unjust and are also discriminatory and ought to be reduced and modified and made just and equitable, and in support of his contentions, he cites the following as illustrations:

That from points along the Columbia river as from Rufus, Grants or Biggs, to Portland, Oregon, the rates for wheat in carload lots, is one and seventy-nine hundredths (1.79) cents per ton per mile, and a general rate of $2.50 per ton, while from Wasco, on said branch line, being only about four miles further from Portland than Rufus aforesaid, the rate is two and thirty-seven hundredths cents per ton per mile, and a general rate of $2.80 per ton being an increase in the rate of 75 cents per ton being more than 35 per cent increase, an increase of nearly two and a quarter cents per bushel of wheat which is certainly unjust. And while there is a little difference, in that Wasco is on a branch and the grade from Biggs is heavy, there certainly cannot be a sufficient difference to justify that difference in rates. Then from Wasco to Klondike, a distance of about five miles further, the rate is two and forty-eight hundredths cents per ton per mile being a rate from there to Portland of $3.05 per ton an increase of only 25 cents per ton for those five miles, while the increase of the rate between that of Rufus and that of Wasco is 70 cents per ton.

That between Klondike and Summit a distance of some two miles or possibly a little over, there is an increase of rate of 25 cents per ton and the same rate prevails on up the line to Moro a distance of 12 miles with the result that the rate from Summit is two and forty-eight hundredths (2.48) cents per ton per mile to Portland, while that from Moro 12 miles further, is only two and forty-four hundredths (2.44) cents per ton per mile a slight decrease in the rate as compared with Summit.

Between Moro and Grass Valley a distance of ten miles there is an increase of rate of 30 cents per ton, being a rate of two and forty-eight hundredths cents per ton per mile to Portland, the same relative rate as from Summit aforesaid, and from Shaniko a distance of 34 miles or thereabout the rate is $2.60 per ton to Portland and is the same as from Grass Valley per ton, but is only two cents per ton per mile a considerably cheaper rate relatively than any other point along the line.

That complainant is informed and believes and therefore alleges that the rates, tariffs and charges made by said railroad in other particulars and in relation to other commodities are likewise unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory both as to incoming and out-going freights.

That complainant is further informed and believes and therefore alleges that said branch line of railroad has from the date of its construction in the year 1897, said and yielded large and ample results and returns upon the capital invested therein and its present earnings are ample to meet its operating expenses, pay good returns upon the money actually invested and still have a surplus, and that a moderate reduction can and should be made upon its tariffs upon said branch line.

That complainant is informed and believes that the tariffs' rates and charges made by said railroad corporation, from Shaniko to Portland, are ample to meet the operating expenses, allow reasonable returns upon the money invested, and all things considered, realize a net profit of reasonable proportions, and that it is manifestly unjust, unfair and unreasonable that shippers between Biggs and Shaniko, where the distances are considerable less should be required to pay proportionately higher rates and tariffs for the same work.

Complainant further states that all the records, papers and documents concerning the schedules, rates and tariffs, the gross receipts, operating expenses, net results, etc., are in the possession and custody of said Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, are unavailable to complainant so that he is unable to give more definite information and make more specific the points of complaint.

Wherefore complainant prays that your honorable body will thoroughly investigate the matters and circumstances herein suggested, alleged and complained of; and that the tariffs, rates and charges upon said branch railroad be so modified as to be just and equitable to all concerned, and discrimination be discontinued.

Dated at Wasco, Sherman county, Oregon, this 7th day of August, A.
D., 1907.

Complainant.

Square Deal for Philippines.

Honolulu, Aug. 8.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, in a speech made at the Commercial club's lunch-

GREAT FLEET COMING

Of Dayton's fleet the first squadron will be the West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland and Pennsylvania all eighteen guns. The second division will be the Tennessee and Washington of 20 guns and the California and South Dakota of 18 guns. The third division will be the St. Louis, Charleston and Milwaukee each with 14 guns and the Chicago 18. The ships in the first squadron are all 13,630 tons. If Japan strikes a sudden blow the Philippines and other Pacific insular possessions will be left at Japan's mercy so far as the navy is concerned as the present force in the far east is insufficient to cope with the enemy, and any attempt to strengthen that force would be resented by Japan as an unfriendly act.

FOR THE PINEX WOODS.

Cooke Patton Joins Mountain Climbers to Try to Reduce his Weight.

Attorney General Crawford having quite a sufficiency of the referendum, this morning took the initiative on a vacation and also the cars for Roseburg. He was accompanied by his son, "Jumpy," and Cooke Patton.
The latter going to rest up his face and get it ready for the fall style of smiles. At Roseburg the party will be joined by Mrs. Crawford and Mr.
Crawford's niece, Miss Sue Watson, and they will all retire to the woods and mountains, going down nearly to Klamath and staying until they are ready to come home which will probably be three weeks or a month.
Cooke had a far-away look in his eye, both of them in fact, as he came over and told the horse editor goodbye, and he confidently told him that what he was really going for was to get the exercise and reduce his weight. He said anti-fat medicines no longer had any effect on him and he had been steadily taking on flesh, until it was becoming burdensome, in fact, had added almost three ounces to his weight since last Christmas. The horse editor was deeply moved and sincerely wished him success in his effort, and that his shadow might grow less—if it could.
Mrs. J. D. Sutherland accompanies the party.
