"When in Rome."
Mary had a little waist,
'Twas full of holes, for true,
And everywhere that Mary went
The boys would peek-aboo.

It followed her to a resort
Hard by the sounding sea;
"'Tis strange," quoth Mary, "that the boys
No longer notice me."

But little Mary'd been to school
And was somewhat astute,
She thought the matter over
And she bought a bathing suit.

And when she bought her bathing suit
And wore it everywhere,
Her troubles quickly ended,
For the boys took note, for fair,
—Kansas City Post.

Irrelevant.

At a term of the circuit court in Ohio not so long ago a "horse case" was on trial, and a well-known "horseman" was called as a witness. "Well, sir, you saw this horse?" asked counsel for defendant.

"Yes, sir, I—"
"What did you do?"
"I just opened his mouth to find out how old he was; an' I says to him, I says, 'Old Sport, I guess you are pretty good yet.'"

At this juncture counsel for the opposing side entered a violent objection. "Stop!" he cried. "Your honor, I object to any conversation carried on between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present."—Harper's Weekly.

Mrs. Gawsup—Mrs. Plain says she would not keep a girl who was better looking than herself.

Mr. Gawsup—Well?
Mrs. Gawsup—Well, that explains why she is always without one.—Exchange.

Be Charitable

to your horse as well as to yourself. You need not suffer from pains of any sort—your horses need not suffer. Try a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It cures all pains. J. M. Roberts, Bakersfield, Mo., writes: "I have used your liniment for ten years and find it to be the best I have ever used for man or beast." Sold by D. J. Fry.
