YOUNG WOMAN ELOQUENT

California Reporter Gets in His Work as a Good Advertiser.

(Santa Barbara News.)

Miss Emma Elgin, one of the charming young ladies of Salem, Ore., arrived in the city yesterday on an extended visit with her aunt, Mrs. S. P. Ray.

Miss Elgin first stopped in Portland, where she called on her cousin, Mrs. Don C. Gerbw, then taking a steamer, she arrived in San Francisco in due season after a decidedly tempestuous voyage, during which Old Neptune flung the young lady across the cabin and tossed her about in mere exuberance of good feeling. Good sailor though she is, Miss Elgin confesses that she found the voyage rough and somewhat wearisome.

She visited Mrs. William R. Seawall, an aunt, a number of days in San Francisco, boarded the Queen and, after a more charming voyage, arrived in this city early Friday morning.

This is Miss Elgin's first visit to southern California and she waxed really eloquent in her enthusiasm over the first impression of Santa Barbara. "Such a wonderfully lovely picture the city presents from the deck of the steamer as she rounds the point; so many trees, such exquisite lines the Santa Ynes mountains present, how gentle the atmosphere and how bright Old Sol's rays fall upon this favored valley"—runs on this enthusiastic, pretty girl, as with sparkling eyes she repeats the old story of the visitor's delight on entering our city. "And there are the orange trees loaded with fruit and blossoms at the same time, and oh, how fragrant!" was one of the first happy exclamations on passing up State street.

Yesterday she went through the upper plazas that our intelligent and zealous park commissioners have transformed from "bare pasture land to parks of dreamy beauty." "I guess I smelled every flower in the park. No, I didn't pluck a one of them," she added on the suggestion.

When Miss Elgin left Portland a light snow was falling and a dense cold fog covered the ocean. In San Francisco conditions were not much better. It is no great wonder that one should exult over the happy fortunes of visiting a land where living is a perpetual revel in flowers and fragrance.

EVELYN THAW CAUSES GOSSIP

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Evelyn Thaw created a ripple of excitement last night by dining in public at the Cafe Boulevard. The pretty wife of the young Pittsburger appeared at the restaurant with E. R. Thomas, the bankrupt financier, and sat at a small table. A few minutes later some one recognized Mrs. Thaw, and everybody in the place was soon gazing at her. Evelyn was noticeably annoyed, especially when Thomas frequently left the table to consult with his lawyer in an adjoining room.

WANT TO JUMP SERVICIAN THRONE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, Feb. 18.—A plot to seat Prince Theodore Max Strew, of Iowa, who is a grandson of Obilitch, the hero king of Servia, on the Servian throne, after it has been seized, has been discovered in Chicago.

Ben Reitman, who recently clashed with the police because he marched through the streets with hundreds of unemployed men behind him, and a dozen other men, are said to be planning the seizure. It is said that arrangements have been made to finance an expedition to Belgrade, where thousands of natives are said to be ready to join a revolution. It is said that an effort has been made to interest wine merchants in the plot, because in seizing the throne the revolutionists would come in possession of rich growing lands. European agents have been watching the movements of the men supposed to be arranging an expedition.

BEER PROMOTES TEMPERANCE

Recognized as a Food Product, and So Dealt With by the Government

It is being recognized the world over that the drinking of beer promotes temperance and sobriety to a far greater extent than all the prohibition laws on the statute books.

All enlightened European nations are encouraging the manufacture and consumption of light beers containing about three and one-half per cent alcohol, and the result has been most gratifying to all sincere lovers of temperance.

The United States government has taken a positive stand in this direction, the war department holding that the re-establishing of the army canteen for the sale of beer being an absolute necessity in the interest of temperance and sobriety.

Beer is today recognized as a "Food Product," and is so dealt with by the government.

All the great insurance companies have contradicted the lies that have been given currency through prohibition sources that the drinking of beer was a bar to securing insurance, and have lately published to the world at large the statement that those drinking beer moderately (not more than two quarts during twenty-four hours) were the very best of risks. The latest British life insurance reports show that the ratio of death rate among abstainers is thirty per cent greater than among moderate drinkers.

Beer is pure and wholesome, and the day is not far distant when it will be as much a part of the daily subsistence of every family as are milk, bread and other food necessities.

The beer brewed by the Salem Brewery Association is in every sense the very best that modern enterprise can produce. It speaks for itself and is its own best advertisement.

Griley recital is sure to announced success, for the charm of this entertainment has been proven by many seasons of practical experience. The audience long since gained a fore-knowledge among the few standards. Many years of en-artists to produce a program for the loving public that not only affords pleasure, but conforms to the best in art. From the beginning, with which Mr. Rogers of the program, followed by a series of impersonations and original pieces by Mr. Griley, the listeners are carried through a series of arresting scenes in the realm of pathos, and music, until the closing leaves the audience wonder-

Neglected Colds Threatens Life.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light colds will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

FAIR GROUNDS ROAD WILL BE IMPROVED.

Chairman Stolz, of the street committee, informs The Capital Journal that his committee has considered the deplorable condition of the Fair Grounds road, and have taken steps to repair the same with gravel and crushed rock from the point where the street angles to the railroad. The same will be done for Broadway, by the co-operation of the Oregon Electric, whose roadmaster has been in conference with the same committee. The arrangements are now fully made to put both streets in passable condition and by mid-summer to have them permanently improved. The street committee does not find it practical to open Capital street to the fair grounds.
