

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantia, Conn.—"For five years I suffered most miserably from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to do anything on the west. I tried three different doctors and received no benefit from any of them. I am now perfectly well, and I am most grateful to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for its cure. It was impossible for me to do anything on the west. I tried three different doctors and received no benefit from any of them. I am now perfectly well, and I am most grateful to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for its cure."

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, indigestion, irregularities, nervous prostration, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

OLD CANNED GOODS CAUSE 1000 DEATHS

[United Press Lensed Wire.]
San Diego, Cal., March 29.—Physicians to-day declared that they believed that more than 1,000 cases of ptomaine poisoning reported here in the past week, were caused by old canned food-stuff which has been sold at bargain prices recently. It is reported that the old food was sold off after the state food inspector warned several local merchants that they must dispose of a quantity of canned goods they had kept in stock for some time. Although several persons suffering from the poison are very sick. It is believed to-day that all of them will recover.

Salem Gets Wireless Station.
The United States Wireless Telegraph Company is erecting a station in this city to carry on a regular commercial business along the coast from San Francisco to the stations in Washington.

The pole is fifteen inches thick at the butt, 6 inches at the top and is 123 feet in length. The pole was set in the ground on the Spaulding Logging Company's property behind their stables south of the South Commercial street bridge. The work of construction is being superintended by W. E. Thomson, a wireless expert, and he expects to have the apparatus in working order within a few days.

There will probably be demonstrations given to the Salem people who are interested in this complicated way of conveying to other thousands of miles away, and the business carried on the company will be the same as that of other larger cities. There is nothing which can stop a wireless telegraph message, and in an emergency case the local station will be a great benefit to Salem business.

It is said that not one out of every 10,000 buildings now standing will be standing in 500 years. We do not know how to put stone and bricks together as the ancients did.

The Mill of Circumstances —and YOU

In this city, as everywhere, the Mill of Circumstances is grinding away 24 hours a day—and today it may be grinding YOUR GRIST. It may be turning one of the incidents of this town's daily life into an opportunity for you—into an advantage for you.

When a merchant gets caught in "the Mill," and is pressed for cash, YOU benefit in the enforced sacrifice of some of his stocks—that is, YOU BENEFIT if you keep posted on what is going on at "the Mill" by reading the ads.

A real estate owner gets into "the Mill" and sacrifices some of his property in order to get out again—pays his toll.

The owners of things—automobiles, securities, businesses, machinery, horses and carriages, typewriters, office fixtures, houses, books, pictures—get into this "Mill of Circumstances," and out of their troubles come your opportunities. They pay the toll.

Incidentally, it's better to watch the ads and to profit by the products of "the Mill" than to get caught in it yourself. Although, if your turn should come, an ad will usually get you out safely. Try The Capital Journal.
