TOLEDO MAN GOES AFTER TIMBER LAND IN GOLDEN STATE.

Ed. Journal:—As it has been some time since I have written to the Journal on account of taking a trip to California to look at some government timber lands, I will write about my trip. I left Toledo on the Sunday excursion June 12th, going to Albany where I stayed over night. The next morning I went to Salem and from there to Eola to visit my parents for one day. Tuesday I took the Oregon Electric to Portland where I called on one of my neighbors while I was homesteading on the Elletts; Wednesday evening, June 15th, I started to Santa Rosa with two friends and neighbors from Toledo who met me at Albany. We arrived at Santa Rosa Friday, June 17th, at 11 o'clock a. m., and stayed there until 10 o'clock the next day when we took the Northwestern Pacific for Willets, Mendocino county. From there we drove about 50 miles toward Eureka on the Eureka road to opposite Big Red Mountain. Here we left the road and walked about three miles over to Big Red Mountain to look at the timber claims. While I and my friends filed upon timber claims I would not advise anyone to make the trip to do so. Mendocino county is very rough and mountainous, the hills being used for stock ranches, most of them containing from 10000 to 35000 acres each. The grass was all dried up and to us Oregonians it looked like it was worthless for pasture now, but the surprising part was that all the cattle we saw was very fat and sleek. After making our trip to the timber we returned to Willets and took the train to Oakland where we arrived on Tuesday, June 21. The next day we called at the Oakland land office and made our filing and prepared to start on our return trip to Toledo that evening. In the meantime waiting for a friend, gave me two days spare time which I spent taking in the sights of San Francisco and vicinity. I first visited the state mineral and horticultural exhibit at the Union Ferry depot, which were large and extensive exhibits. Afterwards I took a trolley car trip with six others, we having a guide for the day. We first visited the Government mint, where we saw them coining silver half-dollars at the rate of $450,000 a day. We were told by the government official guide that the mint there coined more than the other three mints combined; that $52,000,000 was coined at the San Francisco mint in 1908, which was the largest amount that had ever been coined in one year at any mint on the globe. From there we passed the Postoffice and went to Suto Heights, which is a private owned park at the entrance of San Francisco Bay. From there we went to the Cliff House and Seal Rocks and on to Golden Gate park, where we saw a number of buffalo, a large grizzly bear, a cinnamon bear with two cubs, and some deer. We were through the Memorial Museum where we saw all kinds of relics and hand-works of people all over the globe, besides a collection of fine paintings and an extensive exhibit of mounted birds and animals containing thousands of specimens. From there we went to China town where we went through a wholesale and retail store. The next day I took another trip with a party of eleven, visiting the State University grounds at Berkeley seeing all the university buildings and visiting the Greek theatre, a gift from Wm. R. Hearst. It is an open-air theater, built in a half-circle large enough to seat 7500 people, yet sound is conveyed so distinctly that the jingle of a dime dropped upon the cement floor can be distinctly heard clear across the structure. From there we visited the chamber of commerce exhibit at Oakland. After dinner we went to Piedmont Park where we went through and art gallery of famous paintings. From there we visited an ostrich farm near Melrose where we saw 53 grown ostriches and three small ones; also an incubator with eggs in it. The next day my friend arrived from Portland and Sunday, June 26th, we started out to the timber again, returning to Oakland Friday, July 1, and that evening we started on our return trip to Oregon. We had to take chair-cars on our return trip as we could not get any berths in a sleeper without laying over. We were told by the Pullman conductor that the regular trains were short of sleepers on account of all extra sleepers being used in extra trains to Reno, Nevada, for people going to the prize fight. I did not expect to lose any sleep over the Jeffries-Johnson prize-fight as I do not take any stock in such matters, yet I with thousands of others did lose sleep by having to travel in chair-cars, which we would not have had to do if it had not been for the fight. The most attractive country to all of us we saw in our travels was at Medford and vicinity where we saw the most green vegetation and growing crops. The second most attractive place was at Santa Rosa and vicinity where everything was in good growing condition. One of the most interesting sights to me on my whole trip, was the steam ferries at San Francisco. There are three lines running across the bay from San Francisco to Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda and another line north to Sausalito; two or more ferries being on each run continuously. These ferry-boats carry from 2000 to 3000 passengers to a trip, are all crowded and are coming and going all the time during the day. Passengers are carried about four to six miles by water and the rest of the way by cars as the track piers are built three miles out in the bay. GEO. C. MITTY.

RAISE NEW LAW POINT ON APPEAL

FAILURE OF WALLOWA COUNTY'S CLERK TO FILE TRANSCRIPT WITHIN ALLOTTED TIME MAY PROVE LOSS OF CASE—UP TO ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

Contending that the clerk of Wallowa county failed to file the transcript of appeal within the time required by law—five days, attorneys for Thomas and Geo. Tucker have served a motion upon Attorney General Crawford asking that the appeal be dismissed without prejudice to the defendants, and that he be permitted to take a second appeal—a question upon which the Oregon courts have not so far ruled. The attorneys for Tucker in their brief admit that in civil cases that when an appeal is dismissed that a second appeal will not be allowed. They say, however, that this is due to the fact that the code of civil procedure has a statute to this effect, and that this code not applying to the criminal code, and there being no provisions in the code of criminal procedure barring the dismissal of an appeal and granting the defendant the right of a second appeal, the procedure would be perfectly regular and legal. They further contend that as the clerk failed to file the transcript within the required time prescribed by the law the supreme court has not appellate jurisdiction of the case.

A CROWN OF GLORY.

As Well as a Mark of Beauty is Luxurious Hair.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxurious head of hair. It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestowed capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair. To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide surely kills the germs, and is the best hair dressing on the market. It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamp for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. J. C. FIFTY YEARS AT TELEGRAPH KEY Irondale, Mo., July 7.—Almost half a century at the telegraph key in the employ of the same company is the remarkable record of William Martin, station agent of the Iron Mountain railroad, who was buried at De Sota yesterday. Martin was born in Baltimore 66 years ago. He entered the service of the Iron Mountain as a lineman under Colonel R. C. Clowry, now president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, when 18. He was made station agent at Pevely, Mo., in 1865, and eight years later was transferred to Irondale as agent, in which capacity he remained until his death. He was present at the battle of Pilot Knob, in September, 1864. He was then a member of the telegraph corps of the Federal force.

IMPORTANT CASES SET FOR TRIAL

LAW DEPARTMENT OF CIRCUIT COURT WILL HEAR SEVERAL ACTIONS DURING THE COMING WEEK — MULTNOMAH CASE COMES UP ON CHANGE OF VENUE.

The case of L. C. Hillyard, et al, against J. E. Emerson, will be the first jury case to be tried during the present term of the law department of the circuit court, and which is being presided over by Judge Burnett. The case is set for the morning of July 11, and it will be followed in the afternoon of the same day by the case of Hillyard against J. A. Hewitt. Both actions are brought to collect money alleged to be due upon an account. The case of L. E. Peterson, et al, against Carrie O. Kennedy, an action for money, is set for the morning of July 12. The suit was instituted in Multnomah county but a change of venue was taken to the circuit court of that county. In the afternoon of that day the case of D. A. Magnes, et al, against F. E. Osborne, will be heard. This is a suit for damages.

Watson against Ellis R. Burghardt, an action upon a contract.

The cases of Elma Smith against W. R. Smith, an action for the recovery of personal property; that of A. A. Englebart against the city of Salem, an appeal from the justice court, and that of Lizette Shackelford against Charles Demarest, are set for July 15.

LADY ADY TO FINANCE AIR LINE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, July 7.—Lady Adby, who is an aviation enthusiast, today is planning to finance a scheme for the operation of an aerial line from London to Paris. She will donate $250,000, with the provision that the profits of the proposed line be given to charity. She names Graham White as manager of the proposed line. It is proposed to build an airship which will carry 20 passengers, and Lady Adby insists that the construction contracts be given to British builders. Graham White was defeated by Louis Paulhan in the London-Manchester flight. He is considered one of the foremost aviators of the world. It is believed that he is willing to take up Lady Adby's proposition.

The happenstance farmer is getting more and more scarce every year. Too many places where he can stub his toe.

Saved at Death's Door. The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine—Electric Bitters—cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme. 30c at J. C. Perry.

Good Time to Turn Farmer.

In theory there never was a better time than right now for a sensible man to move from city to country, says H. M. Collingswood in the Metropolitan. The movement has been away from the farm until prices of all kinds of food and fiber are high. There is nothing in sight to indicate that prices will be greatly reduced by increased production. A crop well grown and handled with good business judgment will be reasonably sure of sale at a fair price. There never was a time when it was so easy to learn new methods and the principles of farming. A man starting now may receive at once the benefit of 30 years of experience and study of good farmers and experts. For example, millions of acres of land in the eastern states are almost non-productive and thrown on the market at a low figure, simply because they are water-logged and sour. When these farms are drained and limed they become at once productive, and double in value for farm purposes. They are naturally strong and drainage and lime make their strength available.
