CONCATENATED SERMONS ON INDUSTRIALISM

March 31 has been fixed as the time by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alderman for every preacher in the state to deliver a sermon on industrial training in the schools, and with that end in view, he has directed a letter to them, about 1000 in all.

In his letter the superintendent says that he has observed in his travels in the state that there seems to be a large number of people who have nothing to do, and attributes it to a lack of industrial training being taught in the schools. He says he believes much can be accomplished towards creating interest in this department in the schools by ministers delivering sermons on the subject, and requests them all to do so on the date above mentioned.

MACKEY—At the Salem hospital, of tuberculosis, March 13, 1912, George Mackey, aged 40 years.

The body is at the undertaking chapel of W. T. Rigdon, and no funeral arrangements have as yet been made, as it was necessary to hear from relatives in Polk county before final arrangements can be made.

HAIGHT—In Salem, at 12:30 p. m., March 16, 1912, Mrs. Jane Haight, aged 69 years.

The deceased leaves two daughters of Salem, Mrs. Effie Hummel and Mabel Z. Haight, of 2340 Laurel avenue.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 Sunday at the Friends' church, in Highland, and Rev. N. Blanche Ford, of the Highland church, will conduct the services.

The Prohibitionists are no more consistent than other folks. They are now fighting the leader who was their candidate for president at the last election—and they are saying some things about him that would have made them wild, had anyone else seen fit to say anything like it three years ago—and by the way, that is just what they did say then.

CENTER CONTROL IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ADOPTED

Probably the predominating improvement found on high-grade cars at the recent shows is the almost universal adoption of the center control. Many makers of high-priced cars have conceded the superiority of a central location for the change speed levers. President John N. Willys, maker of Overland motor cars, was the first automobile manufacturer to adopt the center control, and this most advanced mechanical invention the industry has seen for two or three years has been embodied in Overland specifications for two seasons. That the Overland organization demonstrated its usual keenness of forethought in bringing out the first center control is evidenced by its adoption on nearly all leading cars.

With the emergency brake and change speed levers located in the center of the floor boards, there is an elimination of unnecessary connecting rods. The control is more sturdy, making it far more positive and reliable in its action. It gives the driver a free right hand to use his steering wheel in crowded thoroughfares, on hills and rough roads. Another feature is the opportunity of the driver to get out of the car on either side. He does not have to step in front of the passenger riding in the front seat. When stopping the car at the right hand curb it is not necessary to alight from the left side. This is especially convenient in winter, when the streets are filled with slush and snow.

"MITCHELL" CARS ALWAYS ATTENDED TO

COMPANY SENDS OUT SPECIALIST TO "TUNE THEM UP," AND LOOK THEM OVER—A SERVICE HIGHLY APPRECIATED BY OWNERS.

mobile service department is in Salem with headquarters at the Simonton Motor Co. He is tuning up and looking after all Mitchell cars in this territory. This service is free to the owners, and is furnished regularly by the Mitchell Co. A service man is sent out when asked for by the different agencies. A purchaser of a machine hardly realizes what a great advantage it is to have his car looked up by service such as the Mitchell people furnish.

David Jacobson of Ankeny bottom placed his order for an Overland 30, through H. B. Looney, the Jefferson agent.

The first of the week the Simonton Motor Co. will receive a model 60T, 35-horsepower Overland demonstrator.

Sol Anderson says that when it comes to downright hard work there isn't a car built that can beat the Apperson. Wednesday he took a party of six out to show them what it could do, and took them up the Rosedale hill on high gear. As everybody who has been over this hill knows, it is steep, and the hard part comes near the top. Sol said the way his Apperson went up that grade would delight any motorist. The engine is rated at 45 H. P., but develops 52. It has a 4 1/2-inch bore and 5 1/2-inch stroke. Mr. Anderson says if anybody doubts the ability of this car to do what he says he will be glad to take them out and show them any day.

Mr. H. B. Looney of Jefferson purchased this week through the Simonton Motor Co., a 30-horsepower Overland. Mr. Looney is owner of the Jefferson garage and has taken the agency for the Overland, placing his order for five cars.

The H. W. & M. L. Meyers department store will install an auto delivery service within a short time.

What We Never Forget.
According to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Ducklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold sores. Only 25c at J. C. Perry's.
