

PATRICIO HAS A BOIL OREGON'S DARK HOUR

The House Will Be No Fit Place for a Minister's Son the Balance of the Session.

What with all-day sessions and all-night sessions in an effort to pass at least a hundred of the thousand bills now before the house, and the members getting tired out and crabby, now comes the climax in legislative woes. Speaker McArthur has a boil on the back of his neck. It is indeed Oregon's darkest hour, and strong men must come to the fore.

Just as though there was not enough legislative turmoil, that bill must come at this time of all times. Pat has been fierce enough to get along with the past week, and as that bill grows larger and larger, and—well, the house had better just put its trust in providence, and weather the gale as best it can.

Speaker Pat has an unwonted craving for preserving order in the house, and in so doing he raps his gavel with all his might every 10 or 15 minutes, and several other times between times. Already he has busted three during this session.

But when that bill has reached somewhere near maturity, along with Pat's temper, and Pat jars it by a heavy gavel rap, then, oh, fellow citizens of Oregon, the house will be no place for a minister's son.

In his sore affliction The Capital Journal extends to Speaker McArthur its deepest sympathy and hopes that more boils are coming and that one will be located on his lips.

PASS THE AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION BILL

What is declared by those favoring the measure to be the biggest single piece of legislation that has ever come before an Oregon legislature received favorable action yesterday in the senate, when the Smith-Thompson bill, providing for agricultural extension work passed that body with only three dissenting votes. The two senators who introduced the bill declare that it will pass the house without difficulty. The Multnomah delegation favored the bill to a man, while the eastern Oregon delegation was strong for it. Some particular provisions of the bill were attacked, but the debate seemed to show that the virtues of the measure overshadowed these slightly objectionable features.

In an impassioned speech Senator Stewart pleaded for a cessation of efforts to bring a greater population to eastern Oregon unless a better means of taking care of them can be had. McColloch, of Baker, declared that extension work must be established if the country east of the Cascades is to come to what is expected of it in an agricultural way. Senator Thompson said that the extension work was the missing link between the farmers and Oregon Agricultural College.

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

HAIR COMING OUT--IF DRY, BRITTLE, THIN OR YOUR SCALP ITCHES AND IS FULL OF DANDRUFF--USE "DANDERINE."

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first--yes--but really new hair, growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small

X-RAYS AND SMILES.

A renowned physician says that the ideal human food is the potato, and his remarks go, for "the eyes have it."

When the big railroad companies electrify their roads, they also electrify the communities through which the roads pass.

"The Rose Maiden" is just the far-famed "Sleeping Beauty," awakened. She was the Rose Maiden after she got up.

The Oregonian says "talk does not build roads." This may be true, probably is, but it did, what a poor lot of material Oregon would have in its highways. And then, too, it may be possible the Oregonian is mistaken. For are we not told that "Hell is paved with good intentions?"

The Eugene Register says "Eugene went wild over Nordica." So did Salem, and it also nearly went broke; would it she came again, and not regret it, either.

We are told one of the councilmen jumped on the Capital Journal Monday night, but took care not to do so until the Journal reporter had left the hall. The ponderosity of the party intellectually, and the effect of his impact on the Journal can be realized, from the fact that the paper did not know of it until Thursday and then only by hearsay. The Capital Journal will gladly give this gentleman space for any of his ideas, or for that matter for all of them. Space is valuable just now, but we can spare a little.

THE ROSE MAIDEN HERE FEBRUARY 19

Beautiful Cantata to Be Presented by the Salem Oratorio Society.

The Salem Oratorio Society, under the able direction of R. B. Carson, will present "The Rose Maiden," a cantata written by Frederick H. Cowen, on Wednesday evening, February 19, at the Grand opera house. Through the courtesy of Managers Morgan and Waters, who have donated the use of the opera house for the two dates, February 19 and March 12, the local Y. M. C. A. will be able to stage two attractions by local celebrities which are of much more than ordinary moment. First comes "The Rose Maiden," a beautiful story brimful of human interest, which will be sung by 50 of Salem's leading vocalists. The solo parts will be ably sung, when it is remembered that Mrs. Robert McKinney, soprano; Mrs. John Jay Roberts, contralto; J. Frank Hughes and Wm. McGilchrist, tenors; Alexander Hull, baritone, will be the individual soloists. The chorus of 50 voices has been hard at work rehearsing their parts for more than three months, and is comprised of many singers of excellent worth.

Then on March 12 ye old-fashioned minstrel show, under experienced management, and with 60 local people in songs, hits and dances will be presented as the other number of this course, which is being handled by the Y. M. C. A. of Salem, who will reap all of the financial returns.

The course tickets good for two entertainments are selling at one dollar, but single tickets for either attraction may be had for 50 cents. Reservations may be made at the Grand opera house Tuesday at 9 a. m., with no extra charge. The Grand has eight boxes, each seating six persons, and every box seat was sold by those in charge in less than two hours' time.

The gallery will be reserved for university and high school students at 25 cents, and will be packed to the roof.

The concert to be given next Wednesday is arousing so much interest not only because it will be given by well-known local artists, for the benefit of Salem's growing institutions, but also because "The Rose Maiden" is perhaps the most beautiful "story in song" ever written, and especially rich in harmonic value.

Mrs. W. H. Burghard, Jr., will be the accompanist, and the Baldwin piano, through the kindness of the Savary Music Co., will be used.

Y. M. C. A. workers and friends of that institution, as well as those who are pleased to see Salem represented by such an aggregation of singers as the Salem Oratorio Society are bending every effort toward the sale of tickets, and it is a safe prediction that the Grand opera house will be crowded to the guards next Wednesday night.

THIS BILL WILL GIVE REPUBLICANS A CHANCE

Senator Thompson's bill providing that an election board shall not contain more than two members of any political party, passed the senate yesterday by a unanimous vote of those present. Only Senator Miller was absent.

By the present law an election board is made up from members of the two parties that cast the highest number of ballots at the preceding election for presidential electors. By this law only Democrats and Progressives are eligible to serve.

CLEANING RIBBONS.

How to Make Them Look Fresh and Smooth. It is a pity to wash and iron ribbons if you can help doing so, as this takes the freshness of them so much.

Of course if they are very dirty you must wash them. Put a good teaspoonful of salt into the water to set the color. Wash them in this hot salt and water with a thick lather of soap. Rinse them in cold salt and water. Then lay them between two clean pieces of muslin and press them at once with a hot iron. They will come up rather stiff, but not nearly as shabby and spoiled as if you did them in any other way.

If they are only a little soiled you can clean them with benzine and make them as good as new. Be very careful never to use it where there is a light or fire, as benzine is very inflammable.

Put the benzine into a basin, put in the ribbons and squeeze and thump them with your hands till all the dirt comes away. Have ready a large empty bottle and wind each piece of ribbon smoothly and tightly around this. The piece will dry in a very few minutes and come away looking just as good as new.

Put the benzine back into the bottle and save it for use another time. The dirt will sink to the bottom, leaving the liquid quite clear.

CASCARETS TONIGHT! IF BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, HEADACHY AND SICK

Turn the rascals out--the headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, the sick sour stomach and foul gases--turn them out tonight with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress--wake up refreshed and feel fine. Let Cascarets cleanse and sweeten your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning--a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children--their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

E. H. Amet Rivals Edison In Inventing Talking Movies

THE distinction of being Edison's rival in attempting to perfect "talking movies" makes E. H. Amet of Berkeley, Cal., a man of the hour in the invention world. Our illustrations show him in his laboratory and the method by which he secures moving pictures and sounds at the same time. For nearly five years he has been working at the idea. Now he has invented what he calls the auto-moto-photo. He claims he can register sounds coincidental with motion and reproduce them just as exactly and successfully. He claims his invention will revolutionize the rapidly growing moving picture business. Edison has claimed the same thing.

Some Corn.

(St. Paul Dispatch.) "Wonderful soil here," said the traveler. "I've never seen such big corn." "Yes," said the farmer, "and we had to plant a dwarf variety to keep it down to this size."

The Sweet Thing.

"This piece of lace on my dress is over 50 years old." "It's beautiful. Did you make it yourself?"
