Those attending the Epworth League institute enjoyed a picnic and excursion to the Chemawa Indian school yesterday, returning in the evening to the Methodist church, where Dr. Avison conducted a joint prayer meeting. The regular class work of the institute was held this morning, while the afternoon is being given over to the different sports, tennis, and probably a baseball game, if the persons of the town can muster a nine. The evening service will be conducted by Dr. Youngson of the Rose City Park M. E. church of Portland, in the chapel on the campus. The meeting will begin at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock as heretofore. The following have asked for articles of incorporation: Scott McDougal, Goodwin Company, of Portland, for $5000. Portland & Oregon City Railway Company, of Portland, for $200,000. Cheshire Poultry & Supply Company, of Rosewood, for $2500. Wisconsin Lumber Company, of Cleveland, for $5000. The Elks' lodge yesterday afternoon and evening showed T. E. Daniels, a high official of the organization, from Medford, a bang-up time. From the time the visitor arrived until he left the local order of Elks were at the bat all of the time. The members gave the exalted antlered leader some excellent entertainment in the afternoon. At 6:30 in the evening he was made the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet held in the Hotel Marion. A full attendance met Mr. Daniels in the lodge hall after the banquet, and he responded to the greeting with some well chosen remarks.

The North Commercial street bridge was opened today for traffic, after being closed for some time. People are cautioned to take the right hand road going north when crossing the bridge and not the left hand road.

The Ladies' Aid of Salem Heights, is invited to meet with Mrs. Myra Sawyer their president, Wednesday, July 2. Special business makes it necessary to call this meeting, and also a good time is assured all who attend. Mrs. Cretoria C. Pascoe, secretary.

A large crowd was out last evening to listen to an address by Ben F. Wilson, Socialist speaker, legislator and retired minister, who spoke on general topics of Socialism. The address was preceded by orchestra selections. B. F. Haney, chairman of the evening, introduced the speaker.

Clergymen to hold picnic. The executive committee of the Ministerial Union, to whom was referred the making of arrangements for a picnic of members and their wives, have decided to hold the same Tuesday, July 15, at 2:30 p. m., in the grove back of Kimball hall. Thos. J. Woodcock.

Word has been received that Mr. Train, a local expressman, had the misfortune to fall from a two-story building at Tillamook and break his leg. Mr. and Mrs. Train were spending their vacation at Tillamook, and it will probably be five or six weeks before they can return to Salem now, as Mr. Train is in the hospital.

We have a swell bunch of boys. Gentlemen, and game to the core. The Senators are not only respected in Salem, but every town in this part of the state. Good, clean sportmen. We have the good things, and they are all getting wise. Keep up the good work.

Hotel Kelly, formerly the Irvin, Nye Beach, Newport, Ore., is now open to the public. Clean and comfortable. Tables supplied with the best. Three blocks from beach. Free bus. Write your reservations: $2.00 per day and up, including meals.

Justice of the Peace Webster yesterday fined the Salem Cannery Company $25 for working women in violation of the female labor law, which sets down that a woman must not work over ten hours a day. The cannery company contended that the law passed by the last legislature providing for overtime work for women prevailed in place of the former law. Justice Webster was of an adverse opinion, and accordingly placed a fine against them.

Those attending the Epworth League institute enjoyed a picnic and excursion to the Chemawa Indian school yesterday, returning in the evening to the Methodist church, where Dr. Avison conducted a joint prayer meeting. The regular class work of the institute was held this morning, while the afternoon is being given over to the different sports, tennis, and probably a baseball game, if the persons of the town can muster a nine. The soil and climate of the Imperial Valley, California, are exactly ideal for producing cantaloupes of delicious flavor. When ordering your chickens, berries, etc., for Sunday, be sure and have us include three or more cantaloupes. Sunset Grocery, 121 S. Commercial st.

Professor J. B. Horner, of the O. A. C., will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Egypt as I Saw It" in the Presbyterian church on Sunday night. The lecture will take the place of the regular Sunday service.

As announced early in the week, Mrs. J. W. Hunt entertained the members of the W. R. C. at her beautiful home on Marion street Thursday afternoon. It was her privilege to make about 40 ladies perfectly happy, as there were about that many present, and all had an unusually pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Colwell assisted Mrs. Hunt, and Miss Echo Hunt also ably helped to make it an enjoyable occasion. The refreshments were most delicious, and the floral decorations were only such as to be found in Oregon in the lovely month of June. Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Colwell are truly to be congratulated upon as to their ability as hostesses.

Governor West today honored requisition papers for Clarence Amshary, wanted in Wyoming, where he has a sentence of 33 months in prison hanging over him for burglarizing a car. A requisition was issued for him May 28, but Governor West declined to honor it because Amshary was under arrest at Lemo for assault with a dangerous weapon. Amshary married since coming to Oregon, and employers and neighbors appealed to the governor not to honor requisition papers, praising him highly. His wife says she did not know he was a convict, but has promised not to quit him.
