WHEAT ADVANCES FROM BIG FOREIGN DEMAND

Chicago, Aug. 5.—In defiance of the hazards of war, European buying of wheat was brisk today on the board of trade here. Prices were up several cents a bushel. The incentive for purchasing was furnished by the British government's guarantee against possible losses by ocean capture of any part of the millions of bushels of grain under contract to go to British ports.

A man who fits a hen suit must be fearfully and wonderfully made.

She returned home last evening.

Another large party bound for the coast joined the ever increasing seashore visitors when A. T. and Mrs. F. A. Turner, Miss Madge Gookins, Miss Joy Turner and Mrs. F. E. SWEDEN, NORWAY AND DENMARK MAY UNITE

The Kaiser's Ignoring of Belgium Treaty Makes Scandinavians Fear for Their Safety, and May Cause Union.

Copenhagen, Aug. 5.—Believing their country was marked for the same fate as that of Belgium and Holland, for whose neutrality so little regard was shown by Germany, the Danes were in a state of panic today. Until after the fruitlessness of Belgium's protest against invasion even when backed by a British threat of hostilities, the people of Denmark had continued to hope that the Kaiser would maintain some show of respect for international usages.

His complete indifference to Belgium's treaty rights when he over ran its territories with his troops convinced them, however, that they could not count on any such forbearance.

More than this, they believed that what Germany took it would hold unless disposed of forcibly. If the Berlin government cared nothing for the treaty to which it was a signatory by which Belgium's neutrality and integrity were guaranteed, it was pointed out, it was not likely it would recollect later its assurance to the British foreign office that it had no intention of annexing Belgium.

May Unite for Protection.

Just as it had need of Belgium and Holland to facilitate its operations against France, it was the general belief here that it would need Denmark in connection with its Baltic sea operations. From England and Russia, it was suggested, the Danes might hope for help later but this was only on the assumption that the Germans were completely defeated, and in any event a Teutonic occupation in the meantime for a matter of months or perhaps of years was looked forward to with horror.

There was some talk of a combination of Denmark, Sweden and Norway to resist aggression but the general opinion was that, though such an alliance might have been effective against Russia, since a Russian-Scandinavian struggle would have been mainly a sea campaign, it could not accomplish much in the case of Germany, so far, in any event, as Denmark, which is open to a land invasion from the fatherland, is concerned.

SHERIFF ESCH FOUND MAN THEY WANTED

While in the Esst Mot and Recognized Man Wanted for Murder and the Latter Is Now Under Arrest.

Sheriff Esch this morning received a letter from Sheriff Ralph Chapman, of Kalamazoo, Mich., stating that Joseph H. Wallraff, wanted in connection with the murder of Horace S. Davis, committed in November, 1907, had been taken into custody by Sheriff Chapman. A circular was received at this office when Harry Minto was sheriff giving the particulars and a photograph of the man wanted under the name of Wallraff. Sheriff Esch was personally acquainted with Wallraff when he was in the east, and recognized the photograph. When Mr. Esch was east on a visit this summer he saw Wallraff on the streets of St. Paul and recognized him. He looked the man up and found that he was in business there.

When Mr. Esch returned home he looked up the case and notified Sheriff Chapman that the man was in St. Paul and gave him the address. Sheriff Chapman went to St. Paul and found his man in a hospital as a cripple while four of his companions were in jail on a charge of illicit drug selling. When the warrant for his arrest Wallraff suddenly ceased to be a cripple and jumped from the bed and did a few tango steps, hesitated a minute before an open window then plunged outside and started across the lawn. He was recaptured and is now being held for the proper extradition papers.

Sheriff Esch says that Wallraff has served time in Joliet prison and is believed to have been a bad man. He had not seen Wallraff for 25 years until he saw him on the street and recognized him. The clipping sent here by Sheriff Chapman states that there is a reward of $2000 offered for the capture of Wallraff.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 5.—Additional tally sheets, to be compared with those in the hands of County Clerk, will be introduced in an effort to break the tie existing between Judge McNary and Judge Benson, candidates for the Supreme Bench of the state. An agreement to abide by the result of any possible change made by a count of the new duplicate lists was today reached by L. A. McNary, representing Judge McNary, and A. E. STONE WOULD TACKLE CHAMPION WELSH

New York Newsboy Made Good in Australia and Game Home With a Quart of Near Diamonds.

WHITE A 2 TO 1 FAVORITE IN MATCH WITH AZEVEDO

Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Dundee to Box 20 Rounds for Featherweight Championship of the World.

By Hal Sheridan.

New York, Aug. 5.—Displaying enough diamonds to stack an ordinary jewelry store, Harry Stone, New York newsboy pugilist, is parading Broadway today. He is rolling in wealth after a two years' tour of Australia, France and England.

Stone brought back with him $30,000. He advised all American fighters to hit the trail for the Antipodes. Stone packed his belongings March 5, 1913, in one lone grip, climbed aboard a slow train for San Francisco, and finally landed in Sydney with $25 and three decks of playing cards. The Australians plainly told him they regarded him as another of those "Yankee stiffies" and also intimated they did not like his looks.

"I told them," said Stone, "that I knew I was rather short on looks, but I made them bat their eyes when I informed them that I could lick any man of my weight in Australia. Finally Snowy Baker gave me a match with Hoek Keyes, whom Australians regarded as the cleverest man since the days of Young Griffo. I beat him and then the kangaroo sports began to take notice.

"Then I was set against Johnny Summers. The betting was 10 to 1 against me. I figured I could beat him and bet my end of the purse on myself. I won easily, and this gave me quite a bank roll. My victory made me popular with all classes of sports, and soon the bookmakers were slipping me information that netted me many hundreds of dollars on the races.

"I fought nine battles in Australia and three in England, winning them all. I am the only lightweight that can bring back the title to America. I saw Ritchie and Welsh fight in London, and I don't think I would have the slightest trouble in beating either of them."

Both Ready for Scrap.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Charlie White of Chicago and Joe Azevedo of Sacramento, lightweights, wound up their hard work today in preparation for their 20-round bout here Friday night. Betting on the general result continued at 2 to 1 today, with even money offered that Azevedo will not last 18 rounds. Previous betting had been at even money that Azevedo would stay the limit.

The Sacramento boxer appears to be in splendid shape for the contest and is confident of victory. He performed before a number of experts yesterday, and all came away convinced that he has a chance.

White concluded his training today by sparring about 10 rounds.

FEATHERWEIGHT FIGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5.—Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Dundee will box 20 rounds at McCarey's Vernon arena on the night of September 22 for the featherweight championship of the world. The match was closed late yesterday.

Dundee already is here, and Kilbane will arrive within two weeks.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The United States government today proffered mediation to the warring European powers.

"As official head of one of the powers signatory to The Hague convention," President Wilson cabled to London, Berlin, Paris, St. Petersburg and Vienna, "I feel it my privilege and duty under article 3, to say to you in a spirit of earnest friendship that I should welcome the opportunity to act in the interest of peace in Europe now or at other time that might be thought suitable.

"Occasion to serve you and all concerned in this way would afford me cause for gratitude and happiness."

President Wilson's mediation cablegram was handed to the ambassadors of the various countries involved in war before noon.

CABLE TO AZORES OUT BY BRITISH

New York, Aug. 5.—The German cable company's officials here announced today that they were unable to communicate with Azores. It was believed the British had cut their cable.

This put an end to direct communication between United States and Germany. A message received from Karl H. Von Wiegand, Berlin correspondent for the United Press, at midnight, was the last word carried by the German cable.

The English cables were still working, though the transmission of messages was considerably delayed by the censorship.

JACK JOHNSON MAY FIND THE "WHITE HOPE"

Paris, Aug. 5.—Four hundred and fifty Apaches were arrested here today for looting. It was announced that the looters will be shot in the future.

Jack Johnson, the American negro heavyweight pugilist, has offered his services to the government for military use. He also declared that he wanted to enlist in the French army.

Paris was celebrating the French naval victory in the Mediterranean with wild joy.

SEVENTEEN ALSATIANS SHOT AS TRAITORS

Paris, Aug. 5.—Seventeen Alsatians, who were endeavoring to enter France near Mulhausen to join the army of the Tri Color, were captured by German troops today and shot.

The citizens of Alsace, as well as of Lorraine, being largely French, sympathize with France against Germany.

It is often said in a sort of uncomplimentary way that no man understands woman. It would be interesting to know how many men understand man.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Club Story Of the Golly Goos.

"SOME of us boys want to organize a club, daddy," said Jack, "and we don't know yet just what to call it or what to do after we get it up." "We girls have got a club," cried Evelyn eagerly, but Jack interrupted her. "Yes, and you sew," he cried. "We don't want any sewing club! We want to do something useful!" Daddy laughed. "Well, Jack," he said, "I guess if mamma didn't put in so much time mending for you you'd wake up to the fact that sewing is pretty useful, after all. But I know just what you mean, so I'll tell you about the Golly Goo club."
