

Social and Personal Notes

By Mollie Rancorn

THOSE in receipt of invitations for the "Tea Musical" to be given by Mrs. Richard Cartwright and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Friday afternoon, at the Hotel Marion, consider themselves especially fortunate. Several hundred have been hidden to this affair, including many out-of-town as well as local music lovers. It is the only large formal event planned for the week, and is being looked forward to as one of the most delightful and charming of the season's offerings in a social way. While not a new idea in entertaining, only a few similar affairs have been given in Salem, and they were considered brilliant successes. While affording the same social privileges as the afternoon tea, the events are made doubly attractive to those who really enjoy good music.

Mr. John Shipp and wife delightfully entertained a number of friends at their home, 275 Superior street, Friday evening. The hours were spent in playing progressive 500, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mr. Louis Bechtel and wife, Mr. J. F. Davis and wife, Mr. C. J. Olmstead, wife and daughter, Miss Hazel; Mr. George Winchell and wife, Mr. Tom Davies and wife, Mr. Charles Henderson and wife, Mr. J. W. Cox and wife, Mrs. Parmenter, Mrs. Sellers and Mrs. Schellberg.

At the regular meeting of the Chautauque reading circle Friday afternoon an unusually interesting program was given. The class which usually holds its sessions in the lecture room of the city library met at the home of one of its members, Mrs. W. W. Fisher. "Roll call" was responded to by giving correct events, Mrs. F. Von Eschen presiding as leader. The "Historical Value of the Legends of King Arthur," by Tenyson, was discussed by Mrs. E. C. Minton, Mrs. B. F. Salmon giving a detailed history of the United States during Tenyson's life. England's history during the same period was told by Mrs. Anna Walker, both papers furnishing much interesting information. A genuine literary treat was offered by Mrs. Carrie Chapel in an original paper on Tenyson's "In Memoriam," treated as a record, a tribute and a confession of faith. It was a beautiful word painting, crowded with exquisite thoughts, and presenting a new and intensely absorbing side of this poetic masterpiece.

It was decided that one meeting each month would be held at Mrs. Fisher's home. Members present were: Mrs. F. Von Eschen, Mrs. E. T. Porter, Mrs. F. C. Frost, Mrs. (Dr.) E. E. Fisher, Mrs. Carrie Chapel, Mrs. H. C. Epley, Mrs. Robert Davidson, Mrs. Frank Wells, Mrs. B. F. Salmon, Mrs. E. Horton, Mrs. E. C. Minton, Mrs. W. W. Rosebrough, Mrs. Lottie C. Dorcas, Mrs. Anna Walker, with Mrs. Jasper as guest.

Miss Grace Mollenecop and Hartley Seamaner were the recipients of a pleasant surprise Friday evening, given at the J. F. Mollenecop home on North Twenty-first street, planned by a large number of their friends, who were for the greater part high school students. The self-invited guests furnished the refreshments and arranged in an enjoyable evening's entertainment. Those who participated were: Misses Benah Summerlin, Irma Summerlin, Athel Summerlin, Eulalie Lindsay, Ruth Rosebraugh, Eva Prince, Josie Koorman, Ruth Wells, Sieba Heath, Messrs Milton Koorman, John Marr, Robert Seamaner, Teddie Irwin, Earl Duce, Laurence Purvis, George Beck and Edward Phernetta.

A special Thanksgiving dance is the offering of the Salem Dancing Academy for that date, which is to be given in Moose hall.

The low mass ceremony was used by Rev. A. A. Moore, at the marriage of Miss Rose Diekey to Anthony Warzetha, which took place at St. Joseph's church this morning at 9 o'clock. The couple was attended by Miss Gertrude Warzetha of Tacoma and Edward Warnick of Mt. Angel as best man.

The church was prettily decorated, a profusion of yellow and white chrysanthemums and ferns gracing the altars. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Leona Weidner at the pipe organ as the bridal party approached, the little ring-bearer, Mildred Saing, frocked in light blue and carrying the ring in a large white chrysanthemum coming first. Small Margaret Bellinger, of Portland, and Winifred Albright were flower girls, both being entirely in white. The bride was preceded by her maid, who wore a becoming gown of white silk with wide pink girle, and carried an armful of shell pink carnations and asparagus fern. A large white picture hat completed her costume.

The bride's gown was fashioned of shimmery white silk, made in the new tunic style and elaborated with lace. Her long tulle veil was secured with orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white carnations. Lohengrin's bridal chorus was rendered softly by Miss Weidner during the ceremony, she also playing the accompaniment for the vocalists, Miss Marie Campbell, who sang "Life's Road" during the earlier part of the mass, filled the church with liquid harmony. Mrs. E. X. Albright rendered Mato's "Ave Marie" at the offertory and Miss Catherine Campbell beautifully interpreted "Star of the Sea," by MacDonnell. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the recessional. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Diekey, on North Fourth street. After a trip to southern Oregon the young couple will be at home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shipp delightfully entertained a number of friends at their home, 275 Superior street, Friday evening. The hours were spent in playing progressive 500, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mr. Louis Bechtel and wife, Mr. J. F. Davis and wife, Mr. C. J. Olmstead, wife and daughter, Miss Hazel; Mr. George Winchell and wife, Mr. Tom Davies and wife, Mr. Charles Henderson and wife, Mr. J. W. Cox and wife, Mrs. Parmenter, Mrs. Sellers and Mrs. Schellberg.

The first of a series of receptions to the town's people, given by the faculty of Willamette university, was held in Lawrence hall last night and was one of the largest and most successful events given for some time at this institution.

Mrs. Claud Slade, of Silverton, is a guest at the John J. Roberts home.

Announcements are being received by friends here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James Mountain, of Walla Walla, on November 21, Mrs. Mountain was formerly Miss Rebekah Gans, a well known instructor in the Salem schools.

STEVE HENDERSON IN "ARIZONA"

"All the world loves a lover." And this is more true of stage lovers than of any other kind. The love element is always the most appealing part of the plot, and nine people out of every ten, as they watch a play, unconsciously put themselves in the places of the hero or the heroine.

Now, Lieutenant Denton in "Arizona," the great military drama, which the Moose will produce here by local talent on November 30 and December 1, is "some hero." He is also some lover. In fact, the part in which Steve Henderson is to appear Monday and Tuesday has long been recognized as the best "romantic part" on the American stage. Augustus Thomas' conception of the hero-lover in "Arizona" is so far ahead of anything that any other present day author has ever written that we must hark back to Romeo to find an adequate parallel. And even then Denton is "vastly more human, and therefore more interesting, than Shakespeare's lovesick swain."

You can laugh with Denton when he makes love to Bonita (Miss Althea Thompson) because he does it like a regular human being. In one of the famous comedy scenes of the play Bonita ridicules Denton's protestations of love, saying that every gentleman talks that way, and that every girl who lives near an army post has a gown trimmed with soldier buttons.

"Well, what of that?" asks Denton. "Every button a vow," says Bonita. "If every vow of mine for you took a button," replies Denton, "I'd have to report in pajamas." Mr. Henderson's performance of Denton in "Arizona" is a treat you will not soon forget. It is pretty generally conceded that he is the cleverest juvenile actor Salem has produced for a good many years. That he is the handsomest young man that could have been selected for the part goes without saying, and if Steve doesn't become a matinee idol over night it will be a surprise to everyone who has seen him work out in rehearsals.

Seats for both Monday's and Tuesday's performances of "Arizona" will go on sale at the box office of the Grand opera house Saturday morning, November 28, at 9 o'clock. The prices are 50 and 75 cents—no higher.

HE GOT BOTH AND MORE

"Mister, could you help me to get a place to sleep and a bite to eat?" said a hoarse beggar last night to Officer Jack Phillips before he saw the officer's star. "Sure" said the officer and he led the man, who gave his name as William Cameron, away to the police station where he was given board and room for five days by Judge Elgin this morning.

Lime Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption): "Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium medication, Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve, undergo an exudation or partial consolidation in the lung, which then resolves, and this appears to contribute to the healing and closing of the lesions. Hand in hand with this course of even the spasm clears up of tubercle bacilli, which finally disappear, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

80,000 VOTES CAST IN JOURNAL CONTEST

No Change in Position and Leader Has Less Than 1,000 Votes to Good

Voting has been heavy in the Capital Journal's exposition contest since last Friday. Something like 80,000 votes were counted when the ballot box was opened today, six of the candidates having had substantial gains. Notwithstanding the heavy poll of votes there were no changes in the relative standings of the leading candidates. Pearl Zina is still leading, Mrs. Hibbler second and Ruth Fugate third, all being close together in their totals. Margaret White is fourth, Violet Cory fifth and Henska Swart sixth.

The trip to the great exposition with its wealth of world-wide wonders, will be the event of a lifetime for the fortunate winner, and the Capital Journal guarantees that no expense will be spared in making a pleasant one. First class railroad fare, the best of hotel accommodations, and facilities for seeing the great fair at its best will be provided free of all charge by this paper. It will be a prize well worth working for.

The plan adopted by this paper for giving the trip does not require the contest to sell anything. The only thing necessary to secure votes being to patronize some of Salem's most popular stores. The advertisements of these firms is run in each Friday's Capital Journal. These firms have agreed to give a sales check or receipt to every purchaser for cash or for monthly bills paid until January 1, 1915. The sales checks or receipts from these firms may be exchanged for votes at this office—one vote for every 5 cents of your purchase.

ARE SNAKES LEGAL GROUND FOR DIVORCE

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 24.—Because of the difficulty of determining whether a woman was justified in deserting her husband because she was afraid of rattlesnakes, which she believed to abound near her husband's residence in Imperial valley, Judge Guy continued until this afternoon the application of Mrs. Nellie M. Scott for a divorce from Chas. R. Scott.

Although Mrs. Scott filed the suit, she was not in court, and the trial proceeded on a cross complaint filed by her husband.

The original complaint charged Scott with desertion. He also alleged that his wife deserted him, stating that he moved from San Diego to Imperial and established a home there, to which she refused to come. Numerous letters were introduced, in some of which Mrs. Scott said she understood that Imperial was infested with rattlesnakes, and that she would rather die than live there.

AUTO KILLS TWO

Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 24.—George W. Pattison of Los Angeles and O. M. Lovelady of Santa Ana are dead today, the result of an automobile accident between Newport Beach and Santa Ana late yesterday. The men occupied a light roadster, with Pattison at the wheel. When a heavier car attempted to pass them, Pattison opened his throttle and tried to hold the road. His car leaped a ditch and overturned. Pattison was killed instantly and Lovelady died an hour later.
