upon every democracy in the western hemisphere.
 "Americans must realize that our army is going to Germany to fight for America.
 "The scene of the fighting is in Europe.
 "The issue at stake is here in America.
 "To see this war is the best cure for shortsighted optimism that I know. No mistake that America can make would be more fatal than the satisfied feeling of content that 'all will be well.' The Germans are far from beaten. In Sweden the other day on my way home from Russia I saw shiploads of food going into Germany.
 "I saw scores of German commercial travelers selling German goods through out Scandinavia.
 "Germany is still a going concern. The empire is full of fight and America's war job is cut out for her. The sooner we realize it the quicker it will be finished.
 "England saw the error of her apathetic way and buckled up to her responsibility with an energy that has given Great Britain a re-birth of industrial efficiency. To watch England in action today is to get an inspiring lesson in sacrifice and endeavor.
 "America must undergo the same thrilling transformation. She must find herself naturally just as long as she found herself industrial. But her patriotism must be deeds—not emotion."

Mohair Prices Are Firm, with Trading Light East and West

Boston, June 15.—There has been comparatively little business accomplished in mohair in the local market during the past week. Prices are firm, but show little change. In the West the growers are holding for higher prices and the buyers appear unwilling as yet to meet the growers' ideas.
 America is still showing interest in the Cape clip and is paying around 35 cents for good Cape firsts and about 34 cents for Basuto hair. English merchants are not taking much hair as yet it would appear.
 In England the market has shown a little more interest since the government order again permitting trading in this class of material was issued.
 Alpaca has been steadily rising in Liverpool lately at increasing prices, best Arequipa fleeces bringing from 58 to 60 cents. Inferiors have also shown considerable activity at increasing prices.

Asks All to Consider Situation and Then Aid the Red Cross

We ask you as Americans loyal to your country and its allies to give the Red Cross the support you are so ready to give. It is an appeal for your own country, and your country's allies. An appeal against cruelty—oppression and autocracy. An appeal for victory, liberty and honorable peace.
 A few brief weeks will mark the beginning of the fourth year of the most terrible war in history. The countries of our allies are torn and bleeding, the devastation and destruction of these countries' resources is beyond all our imaginations, try to bring home this deplorable condition. Suppose, if you can, our own country suffering three and one-half years of ruthless warfare and war's ravages at the hands of a nation devoid of mercy, honor and con-

MEETING IS CALLED OVER AMENDMENTS

The Object Is To Prepare Arguments Favoring Charter Amendments

Mayor Walter E. Keyes has called a meeting this evening at the Commercial club of a committee appointed to prepare arguments to accompany the proposed charter amendments to be submitted to the voters of the city at the election to be held July 9.
 The three proposed amendments are to be submitted to voters by action of the council, and the general opinion of the leading citizens of the city is that the election to be held July 9 is of vital importance to the general prosperity of the city.
 The proposed amendments are being submitted to the voters primarily because the city lost the two cases in the supreme court, wherein certain tax payers on South Commercial and South High street avoided their assessments on account of a technicality in the advertising.
 To give the city authority to re-assess and to correct the technical error made in the advertising, the common council proposed three amendments to the city charter, which are to be passed on at the coming election.
 The first amendment gives the city the right to re-assess, where property owners are refusing to pay their street assessments, through a technical error in advertising. The second amendment to the city charter to be passed on by the voters provides for a more effective system for collecting street improvement taxes. The third measure proposed gives the majority of property owners a right to decide as to whether there shall be a street improvement, instead of the present law wherein a two thirds majority is necessary.
 A committee of about 20 to prepare arguments will be appointed by Mayor Keyes the appointment up to today noon included John H. McNary, S. M. Endicott, I. H. Van Winkle, Thomas Kay, I. Greenbaum, Wm. H. Tripple, Frank Southwick, T. C. Smith, Jr., W. Byrd, C. H. Robertson, E. T. Barnes, Aug. Buckstein, Henry Meyers, Theo. Roth, James Elvin, R. N. Avison, Roy Shields, Ward K. Richardson, C. Van Pattern, James McClelland, W. F. Bushner, Frank Ward, Paul V. Johnson, Lloyd T. Rigdon, Bert Macey.

Captain M'Allister Presented with Ring

The interesting event of the visit of the Cherrians to the Rose Festival yesterday in Portland was the presentation of a Comandery ring to Captain Joe M'Allister, who has enlisted with the army engineers and who will soon join his company.
 The captain was taken by surprise at this manifestation of good will from his brother Cherrians but managed to thank them, expressing the hope that in time they would all meet again.
 Everything went along according to schedule yesterday. On the trip to Portland the Oregon Electric handed the new cigars and presented the ladies roses, caring for their comfort on the return trip by supply each with a chair pillow.
 The Cherrians were left pretty well to care for themselves, which they did to their own satisfaction with the banquet at the Multnomah and dance. The gold room of the Multnomah was tendered the Cherrians for the dinner and dance. Cherrians to the number of 82 were present in uniform and a total of 192 plates were served.
 For the first time in the history of the Cherrians, they came home without bringing a prize. The only classification under which the Cherrians could compete was that of a non-fraternal organization and the prizes were won by the Italian Red Cross and the Transportation Red Cross club.
 Besides the dancing at the Multnomah, the evening's entertainment included solos by Miss Ada Miller, who was most favorably received, several numbers by the Russian quartet and selections by the Cherrian Military band.

Court House News

The damage suit brought by W. L. Diehl against A. B. Richardson of Stayton, for alleged false imprisonment, was lost yesterday when the jury trying the case brought in a verdict for A. B. Richardson. The suit was for $1500. A. B. Richardson had Diehl arrested at Stayton some time ago and at the trial in the justice's court he was acquitted. The suit for damages resulted.

State House News

John P. Hunt won his suit against the Security State bank of Woodburn yesterday when the jury returned a verdict in his favor in the sum of $90. The suit was the result of Hunt asking the bank to stop payment on a check and the bank marking it "paid."
 The City Club of Portland filed with a capital of $75 for the purpose of bringing together congenial, forward-looking men of divergent beliefs, politics and occupations. The incorporators are Edgar H. Senneich, F. B. Layman and Bert W. Henry.
 Resolutions dissolving the Schnabel Schnabel Investment company, and the Hood River Forest Products company were filed.

Lebanon Festival Has Large Attendance

Lebanon, Ore., June 14.—The ninth annual Strawberry Festival and Rose Show opened this morning with a large attendance under ideal summer weather. The display of berries was not up to the usual quantity owing to the late season, but there are plenty of fine quality. The warm weather is rapidly ripening the berries and by the closing day, Saturday, there will be enough to maintain science. Just suppose American womanhood had been ruthlessly violated. American children had been persecuted and murdered. American soldiers by countless thousands had been slain and maimed and blinded for life, and American cities, towns and villages had been wantonly destroyed. Suppose, if you please, your own loved ones had been torn from you, to be murdered or left to die from cruelities, exposure and starvation. This is but a faint outline of what the people of the allied countries are suffering—and our own president has declared "We are brothers in a common cause, the wrongs against which we now array ourselves are the wrongs of human life—and it is our plain and honest duty to do what we can for them, also to prepare our base hospitals with supplies, our soldiers with comforts and necessities, to provide artificial legs and arms so they may return to active and useful life, and it is only through this great organization of the Red Cross that this can be successfully accomplished.
 The Red Cross will undertake to see that relief reaches any and all of these sufferers, if funds are made available, and it is your dollars and assistance that is so much desired. Won't you join? Thereby expressing your loyalty to your country and allegiance to our flag.

OPEN AIR MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT

Red Cross Stages Big Gathering at Court House at 8 o'Clock

A big open air mass meeting and rally will be the Red Cross card for Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. It is to be staged on the lawn of the court house, the speakers using as a rostrum, the west portal.
 The speaker of the occasion will be J. C. Herbsman, who was recently in Salem in behalf of the Ellison White Chautauque. Mr. Herbsman's meeting at the Commercial club got crossed with the visit of H. W. Stone, northwest organizer for the Red Cross $100,000,000 campaign, and on this occasion, Mr. Herbsman gracefully gave way to the Red Cross and turned his address into a stirring patriotic appeal for the Red Cross, receiving a tremendous ovation.
 So decided a bit did the speaker make, and so much comment create, that O. B. Gingrich yesterday got chautauque headquarters on the wire, and made request for an additional quota of Mr. Herbsman's time and talents. The chautauque people share their patriotic joy through, and Mr. Herbsman will be returned to Salem for this occasion at his expense.
 In addition to the splendid speaker thus secured, preparations are under way for an elaborate musical program, to furnish a proper setting. Details of this have not as yet been filled out, but the public is assured of the finest talent available. That Mr. Herbsman is more than worth listening to, is the testimony of all that heard his impromptu address of the other evening. Mr. Herbsman being of German descent himself, knows and understands the psychology of the German who divide the United States and Germany was illuminating to a high degree, and his definition of German Kultur, and its danger to democracy, a revelation. Everyone should hear Mr. Herbsman tomorrow evening as a matter of information.
 When Judge Bushey was asked for permission to use the court house steps and lawn for the meeting, his response was, "Certainly. Nothing is too good for the Red Cross workers."

AMERICAN BUGS KILL GERMAN NAMED ROSES

Tacoma, Wash., June 15.—German roses in Tacoma are having a hard struggle this year.
 Whether the war is responsible, is a matter of conjecture, but Frank M. Latchum, originally of the Tacoma rose society, and one of the most prominent Rosarians in the city reported Thursday that all roses with German names are stunted and backward in their growth.
 Among the plants which seem to be unable to thrive this season on cinnamyl soil are the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, Frau Karl Duschki, Madame Hoste, Bismarck, Johannes Wesselhoff, Heinrich Munch and Frustin Von Pless.
 "Moles seem to be acting as submersives in attacking the roots of German roses," said Latchum today.
 "Flying ants are attacking the plants in similar fashion to airships. I am digging war trenches about the plants deeper than ever this year, but it doesn't seem to do any good."
 Latchum reports that other roses, particularly the La France and others from the allies, are budding rapidly.

James W. Seavey Once More Is High Gun

James W. Seavey, the well known smasher of clayrocks, again made his trusty scattergun bring him honors at Everding Park yesterday afternoon by capturing the second annual Rose Festival association handsome trophy. He made a mark of 22 out of 25 while standing at the 22-yard mark.
 Besides taking first honors in the main event, he also eclipsed a field of more than 35 in the special 100-bird class system contest. He was able to score 97 out of the 100, having missed two rocks in the second 25-bird match and one in his third 25-point stanza. Second honors were captured by Frank M. Troch of Vancouver, Wash., with 93 out of 100.
 Seavey won the class A championship with Peter Whitney of Woodburn, who finished high gun in the Columbia-Willamette Trapshooting Association for the Oregonian trophies, was able to get first place in class B, with C. E. Doble of Albany, first in class C, E. G. Lawman of Salem, in class D, and G. J. Joy of the Portland Gun club, in class E. The winners in each class received a trophy cup, presented by the Portland Gun club for the occasion. The winners are getting ready for the northwest shoot billed for Portland June 24, 25, 26 and 27.—Oregonian.

Ministers to Preach On Red Cross Work

The ministers of the city are asked to fire the first guns in the big drive for Salem's share of the president's $100,000,000 war fund for the Red Cross, of which this city's share is $25,000. Sermons for Sunday next, June 17, in all the churches it is expected will bear on this timely topic.
 By an undesigned coincidence, it happens that June 17 is Bunker Hill day, the critical battle of Bunker Hill having been fought on that day in 1775, one of the first battles of the American colonies in their struggle for liberty. It will be remembered that on this historic occasion, 1,500 Americans under Colonel Prescott successfully defended the heights giving command to the city of Boston, against 3,000 British under

Lebanon Wool Pool Sells at Record of 63 1/2 Cents a Pound

The 35,000 pound wool pool at Lebanon, Ore., was sold yesterday afternoon to the Union Meat company of this city at 63 1/2 cents a pound, the highest price actually paid in this state. The pool consisted mainly of medium wool. This is the first time the Union Meat company has participated in the wool market, and their entrance occasioned considerable surprise. The second highest bid was understood to be 58 1/2 cents.—Oregonian.

JOURNAL WANT ADS PAY

George Beatty of the police force is in receipt of a letter from J. P. Hart, Ensign, U. S. navy, retired, recruiting officer at Portland, commending him on the good work he has done in rendering assistance to J. E. Adams, the navy recruiting officer. In the letter to Mr. Beatty, the ensign writes: "I desire to express to you the sincere appreciation of the navy and of the Portland office for the efforts which you have made and hope that you will continue these efforts in behalf of this service, with which you are familiar. Many splendid men have responded to the call of the navy, but many more are needed and I feel sure that ex-service men of your calibre, although unable to return to the service themselves, will continue to exert their best efforts."

CIGARETTES CAUGHT HIM

Pendleton, Or., June 15.—To evade federal prosecution of a charge of failing to register, Dan Quinlan today confessed to a state charge of having cigarettes in his possession, a misdemeanor under Oregon's new anti-cigarette law. Quinlan, when he bought the cigarettes, said he was past 21, but was unable to produce a registration card.

ANOTHER KING IS WEARY OF HIS JOB

Robes of Royalty Tangle His Feet and He Has Neither Pockets, Nor Money

Portland, Or., June 15.—King Mac, crowned ruler of Portland, threatens to abdicate his throne.
 To say that King Mac dislikes his job is putting it mildly. Fine ladies, court splendor and rides in gaily decorated automobiles holds no joy for him.
 "If I had ten cents on me," His Highness said today, "I'd get an ice cream soda and get away from this stunt of being dressed up like a horse. Of course, it's all right to be a king for a little while, but I wouldn't want the job right along. They help me into the automobile and out of it, like I was sick. Gosh, I ain't no cripple."
 "Why, I know where there is a bird nest right out near where I live, and there's little birds in it and the old birds are feeding 'em by dropping worms in their mouths. And the water in the river is just right for swimming. Believe me, when they turn me loose from this king proposition tonight, I'm going to make up for lost time."
 King Mac further intimated that if it were not for the fact that Portland's eleventh annual Rose Festival ended to night, he would bolt the job. "I'd rather swim than be king any day," he observed as he kicked his feet loose from his royal robes.

May Resort to Draft for Regular Army

Washington, June 15.—In addition to drafting men for the new national army, the government will probably have to draft additional forces to fill up the regular army and national guard. This view was expressed by high military authorities this afternoon, following returns showing only one thousand enlistments in the army yesterday, one of the lowest amounts since April 1. Recruiting has been on a slump for several days.

AFTER THE PACKERS

Chicago, June 15.—Federal subpoenas were issued today for the managers of the produce dealers' departments of all the large packing concerns in Chicago. They were summoned to appear before the federal grand jury in session here.
MERCHANT CRUISER SUNK
 London, June 15.—The armed merchant cruiser Avenger was torpedoed and sunk in the North sea Wednesday night, the admiralty announced today. All except one of those on board were saved.
 General Howe, the Americans finally being forced to yield through shortage of ammunition.
 Fraternal orders are also asked to do their part, by making the big war fund, a part of their order of business at any meetings held this or next week. The merchants of the city are being urged to devote a portion of the space in display windows, for such display as may be desired on the matter of the president's appeal.
