

Maddi Boettner

Sisters High School January 2015 Student of the Month

Maddi Boettner is a leader. The three-sport athlete has been captain of her swim team, track and cross-country, and she's also been one of the Math Team captains. She's class president and active in the Life Skills Program. Last year, with help from the Sisters Science Club, she attended the three-day Congress of Future Medical Leaders in Washington, D.C. There she spent 12 hours a day listening to Nobel Prize-winners, Intel prize-winners and doctors at the top of their fields. The trip was a major step on her path toward a career in the medical field.

Maddi says she likes to stay active because she's always wanted to leave a mark on her school. And trying many different things is a great way to discover your true passions.

"And I like to have things to do — though I sometimes have way too many things to do," she says.

"Maddi has a fun sense of humor, a responsible work-ethic, an optimistic attitude and natural leadership skills that make her a stand-out at our school. I wish this wonderful person the very best in all her future endeavors! Congrats, Maddi!"

— Rob Corrigan

"I appreciate how Maddi takes an active role in making a memorable year for all seniors. I've always known Maddi to be a leader, but this year she took on responsibilities with the yearbook as well as the senior video. The senior video is a consuming task because she has to get all the seniors to turn in a baby picture and a senior photo. Yet, Maddi is doing it because she wants to make the year memorable for all. She is a gift to our school."
— Mr. Hosang

"Congratulations, Maddi! This is a well-deserved honor. Maddi works hard and holds herself to high standards. She sets goals and works to achieve them. In cross-country she embraced the leadership challenge of captaining her team, and grew in the process. She tackles challenges with gusto. Her can-do approach is inspiring and contagious. Her ability to keep a clear vision as her guide will serve her well."
— Rima Givot

"Maddi has it all. She is caring, funny, creative, hardworking, and bright. She will do great things and represent Sisters well."
— Daniel O'Neill

"I feel fortunate for the opportunity to coach Maddi all these years. To watch her grow from a little middle school kid to the woman she has become has been a true honor. Truthfully, there are seniors that you can never replace, and I will miss her when her time in these hallways is complete. While on the outside it looks like Maddi's greatest strength is her drive, but the more you know her it's her huge heart. Plus, she doesn't back down from anybody and runs her mouth like a punk. What is there not to like about that! Stay strong, Maddi B."
— Josh Nordell

"Maddi is incredibly focused, motivated, and passionate about entering the medical field, and has taken the necessary steps toward achieving that goal. Her teachers at SHS have reported that she is an inspired learner who enhances the classroom environment through her inquisitive nature and by facilitating discussions."

— Morgan Davis
