

Girls lacrosse win at Crescent Valley

By Rongi Yost

The Lady Outlaws tallied a 10-7 win at Crescent Valley on Thursday, March 19, and are now 1-1 for the season.

Sisters jumped out and scored quickly. Langley Vogt scored the Outlaws' first goal in the first 15 seconds of the game, and Emily Ford and Jessica Edwards each knocked in a goal before the five-minute mark.

The Outlaws pushed to a 4-0 lead before the Raiders were able to score their first goal at approximately eight minutes into the game.

At the half, Sisters was on top 8-4. The Outlaws continued their impressive play and rolled to the 10-7 victory.

Vogt, Ford, Edwards and Jenny O'Connor each scored two goals for the Outlaws, and Bree Papworth had eight saves in the contest.

Coach Mikaela Trott-Rickards told The Nugget that the defense had 'glorious communication' and double-and-triple-teamed the Raiders, forcing them out of shooting range, and smoothly sliding to cover players.

"The Outlaws controlled passing and pacing of the possession of ball down in offensive set-up and were unselfish in their play, with many assists and precise cuts into the 12-meter, which is where we saw many assists to goals," said Trott-Rickards.

Three days earlier the Outlaws lost to a tough South Salem (SS) team.

At the half, Sisters was down 13-3. In the last fifteen minutes of play, the Outlaws came back and poured in six goals, and limited SS to two.

Emily Ford, at attack, and Langley Vogt (center) both scored four goals for the Outlaws. Vogt also recorded nine draw-controls. Freshman Jessica Edwards scored her first varsity goal of the season.

Marissa Young led the defense with her speed and intensity, caused two turnovers, and had one draw-control. Jenny O'Connor had three draw controls and one ground ball.

Sierra Hummel was a key player in the game, and according to Coach Mikaela Trott-Rickards, led the defensive players with her strength and confidence.

"She (Hummel) called doubles and stopped the ball from reaching the goal," said Trott-Rickards. "Sierra, along with Mackenzie Hendrickson, were a great pair on the defensive-end."

Taylor Schnedier assisted Ford in back-to-back goals while triple-teamed.

Trott-Rickards told The Nugget that the player-of-the-game was sophomore Bree Papworth who saved 17 of South Salem's 32 shots on goal.

"She was sick during the game, but stuck through it," said Trott-Rickards.

The Outlaws will resume play after spring break with a home game against South Salem on Saturday, April 11.
