

DANCE: Toddlers to adults performed a variety of dances

drumming and dancing. The teen hip hop class danced with Fe Fanyi West African Drum and Dance Troupe during the number “Roots of Hip Hop.” The performance depicted the journey of hip hop dance, beginning with its roots in Africa. The dance, drum, and performance troupe from Bend has been entertaining Central Oregon with the beauty of music and dance of the Mandingue since 2007. The performance “Surf’s

Up” got the audience’s attention and reminded everyone of a journey through summer when the young dancers hip hopped across the stage to the surfing song, with their colorful beach towels. This year’s emotional grand finale, “Malala Endeavor,” included dancers from both the senior and junior performance ensembles. The ballet-style dance represented a journey of a young Malala Yousafzai, a 12-year-old Pakistani girl who survived a shooting in her fight for girls and women to get education.
