

Campfires banned across entire Central Oregon region

With dry conditions expected to continue in Central Oregon and fire-suppression resources limited due to numerous fires, the Prineville District Bureau of Land Management, the Deschutes National Forest and the Ochoco National Forest, including the Crooked River National Grassland, are implementing a total campfire restriction. All open fires, including charcoal fires, are prohibited on all lands administered by the Deschutes National Forest, the Ochoco National Forest and Crooked River National Grassland, and the Prineville District, BLM.

There are no exceptions for developed or hosted campgrounds.

In addition to campfire restrictions, smoking remains restricted to an enclosed vehicle or building, in a designated campground, in boats on lakes and rivers, or while stopped in an area at least three feet in diameter that is clear of all flammable material.

Portable cooking stoves or lanterns using liquefied or bottled fuel may still be used in all areas. Officials also want to remind the public that using explosive target material, such as Tannerite, explosives, and fireworks continue to be prohibited on all federal lands.

At this time there are no restrictions on motorized travel on BLM or FS roads in Central Oregon; however, fire officials remind visitors about the dangers of driving through or parking on vegetation. The hot undercarriage of a vehicle can easily ignite brush, not only burning the vehicle but also spreading to nearby vegetation.

At this time, visitors are asked to avoid driving on two-track roads with vegetation down the center, and to park in areas clear of vegetation. Make sure vehicles carry a container of water or a fire extinguisher.
