

Holidays In Sisters Country 2015

The community tree is lit; Santa Claus has come to town (for his first of several visits). Sisters' finest have paraded down Main Avenue.

It's officially Christmas season!

Whether you live here year-round, have a second home here, or are just visiting for the holidays, Sisters is your hometown at Christmastime. Put aside the hustle and bustle and take time to smell the cider. There are places where you can slow down, take a moment to enjoy a hot cup of winter cheer in front of a roaring fire; places where strangers become friends and friends become family.

There's plenty to enjoy during the countdown to the big day. Local craft bazaars offer up the wares of extraordinarily talented local artisans, while the air is filled with the joyful music of Sisters' many musicians.

(told you he was coming back) and buy an ornament that adds whimsy to your tree while helping local furry friends.

Sisters also works hard to help those in need. Donate to the Sisters Kiwanis Food Bank or buy See's Candies from the Kiwanis and help support their many outreach programs.

Going holiday shopping in Sisters isn't like going to the mall. Here, you are dealing with mom-and-pop shopkeepers who offer a nice dose of holiday hospitality to go along with a selection of unique gifts.

Take some time to explore Sisters this holiday season, and enjoy a classic Christmas in our own winter wonderland.
