QUILT SHOW: Theme of the 2016 show is 'Infinite Stitches'

by the hanging flower baskets that line the streets of Sisters. They are like colorful quilts in themselves with great mixtures of color and texture.

"Years ago I spent time in Oaxaca, Mexico and bought several floral embroidered bags," the artist said. "Those colorful flowers and that beautiful stitching spoke to the theme. I am also inspired by the work of my friends Sue Spargo and Tonye Belinda Phillips, who do such amazing applique and elaborate floral work on their quilts with thread and fabric.

"The hanging basket is framed by the Three Sisters Mountains on the top and by ponderosa pines on the sides. I hear Quilt Show attendees say coming to Sisters and breathing our mountain air, with its delightful sprinkle of ponderosa pine scent, provides them vivid memories to carry home. I hope that this poster reminds them of a wonderful creative time in their lives and the warm reception they received here in Sisters."
