

High Desert high tea with OSU Extension

Are you looking for a new twist for a Mother's Day celebration this year?

Oregon State University Extension Service is offering a workshop where participants will learn how to make safe, home-canned lemon curd, lemon poppy-seed scones, and soft-whipped cream. Adults registered will work in small groups to make and can lemon curd and review water-bath canning procedures. Each person will learn tips on baking at high altitude and make their own batch of scones.

Gluten-free ingredients will be available, for those interested. At the end of the session, tea will be brewed and scones with lemon curd and whipped cream sampled at the high tea party. Everyone will take home a jar of canned lemon curd, their scones, and recipes.

Two sessions of this public workshop will be on Thursday, April 28 at 9 a.m. to noon or 1 to 4 p.m. at the OSU Extension/Deschutes County office in Redmond (at the fairgrounds, Parking Lot D). The lab fee for the class is $12. The sessions will be taught by OSU Extension Educator Glenda Hyde, assisted by OSU Extension master food preservers.

Register by calling 541-548-6088 by Monday, April 25. Class size is limited.

Baseball team defeats White Buffs

The Outlaws wrapped up pre-season play with a 6-4 win over the White Buffaloes at Madras on Friday, April 1.

Sisters scored three runs in the fourth inning to take a 4-1 lead, and held onto the lead to the end. The Outlaws added an important run in the top of the seventh for a great finish.

Coach Steve Hodges explained, "We had a runner at first and third with two outs. We ran an early release play at first and drew the ball, and our third-base runner (Jake Larson) came home."

"That play shows the team is beginning to play with intelligence, and they're utilizing the ingredients to put together a win. The win today was a good confidence-builder. To play in a close game and get a win is an important step, especially as we look to start conference."

Sisters played a good defensive game with only one error in the contest. The outfield defense, Alec Gannon, Jake Larson, and Jake Stevens, made many great plays in the field for the Outlaws.

Ryan Cook was the Outlaws' winning pitcher, and Ryan Funk earned the save.

Zach Morgan was the Outlaws' big hitter and went two-for-two, with a double and an RBI.
