

SPRD seeks board member

Sisters Park & Recreation District is looking for an individual interested in serving on its board of directors to fill the position of Andrew Gorayeb, who stepped aside last month.

The board consists of five members. Board meetings are generally on the first Tuesday of the month at 6 p.m., with an additional meeting sometimes scheduled on a Tuesday evening in the middle of the month.

Because this position has become vacant in the middle of an elected term, the board will appoint a candidate. However, if the appointed candidate would like to continue serving on the board, they will have to be voted in during the public election process in May.

This is a volunteer position.

To apply, fill out the board member application form found at www.sistersrecreation.com/board-meetings. For more information contact Liam Hughes at Sisters Park & Recreation District, 541-549-2091 or liam@sistersrecreation.com.

Sisters Roundup of Gems rolling into town

A mobile treasure trove of rocks and gems will caravan into town next week as the Sisters Roundup of Gems opens Friday morning, July 1 on the grounds of Sisters Elementary School.

Admission is free, giving families the opportunity to see and learn about some of the most beautiful creations of nature from all over the United States and many other countries as well.

Hours are Friday through Sunday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There will be 36 different booths bringing a huge variety of natural and man-made treasures. There will be a wide variety of beads that come in many unique shapes and colors of the rainbow for crafters who make their own jewelry.

Visitors will find beautiful, large and small sparkling crystals, findings, fossils, gemstones, jade, jewelry, petrified woods, rough rock and slabs from around the world.

The sunstone is the Oregon State gemstone. This sparkling beauty comes in many different colors. They are found around the Lakeview area. The thunder egg is the state rock. The centers are full of agate, crystals, moss, and opalite.

All of these will be on hand at the show.

The event is wheelchair accessible.

Deschutes salmon effort is work in progress

BEND (AP) — Despite efforts to reintroduce salmon in Oregon's Deschutes River, there still aren't enough of the fish for a sustainable run.

The Bulletin reports that people have raised concerns about fish passage operations and water quality, but experts say restoring the upstream salmon may just take time.

Officials are trying to restore salmon runs upstream of a 20-mile dam complex operated by Portland General Electric. The three-dam complex was completed in 1964 and stopped salmon runs decades ago.

PGE fisheries and water quality manager Megan Hill says people want to see immediate results but don't realize that reintroducing salmon takes time.

The company will include public updates on the project during its 21st annual workshop exploring dam and fishery topics, which will be held Wednesday and Thursday in Madras.
