Camp Sherman's cabins have a long and interesting history.

Celebrating centennial of Camp Sherman Cabins

The Camp Sherman Historical Society will mark the centennial of the first leases signed with Forest Service that allowed the building of the familiar cabins along the Metolius River in an event on August 27.

The public is invited to join in.

The event will start with a gathering at the Camp Sherman Store at 1 p.m., where speakers will share information.

"We will have someone from each of the first three cabins speaking about their history and ties to Sherman County," said Scott Blau of the Camp Sherman Historical Society. "There's one cabin that still has the original owners. We collected stories on most of the 30 cabins around the store."

The Deschutes National Forest archeologist will provide some background information as well. A booklet with histories of about 30 cabins near the Camp Sherman Store will be available to use for a self-guided walking tour.

Artists featured in Fourth Friday event

Pastel/oil artist Kathleen Keliher and jewelers Elyse & Steven Douglas will be featured at Hood Avenue Art from August 23-September 19.

Keliher takes inspiration from Central Oregon vistas for her paintings; the Douglases excel in crafting original Oregon sunstone jewelry designs. A reception for Keliher and the Douglases will be on Fourth Friday Art Stroll, August 26, from 4 to 7 p.m.

In addition, Hood Avenue Art is hosting workshops: Vino Van Gogh (Paint & Sip Class) Watercolors with Winnie Givot on Wednesday, August 17, 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and Oils with Katherine Taylor on Wednesday, September 21, 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Cost is $45 (includes materials).

The gallery provides all the supplies and instruction needed to create a painting; you bring wine or beer and maybe some friends to share it. Beginners are welcome — no experience needed. For more information contact Winnie Givot (winniegivot@gmail.com) or Katherine Taylor (kt@katherine-taylor.com). To register, call Hood Avenue Art, 541-719-1800.
