

Equine Outreach hosts 'Haydown'

Folks in Sisters Country can help their horsey pals by attending the Equine Outreach Horse Rescue 2nd Annual Harvest Haydown. The event is a fundraiser for the horses and will help to cover the costs of winter hay.

Admission is by donation at the Saturday, October 1, event set for noon to 6 p.m. at the Equine Outreach Ranch, 63220 Silvis Rd., Bend.

Sheriff Shane Nelson will discuss animal law and the work being done by Deschutes County. Retired veterinarian Dr. Larry Dresher will answer questions about animal care.

There will be something fun for everyone: kids' activities, pony cart rides, face painting, horse demos, live music by Riley's Range Benders and Appaloosa, food by Rico's Tacos, Worthy Brewing beer, Tumalo Cider Co. hard cider, hay ride tours, a cake walk, Hank's lucky lotto, artists/vendors, and silent auction items. The official greeter will be Hank, the big, friendly Clydesdale.

Anderson will hold audience rapt with raptors

By Sue Stafford
Correspondent

On Friday afternoon, September 30, in the Sisters Library community room, the world of raptors will come alive when longtime local naturalist Jim Anderson shares his extensive knowledge with an illustrated forum on Oregon raptors.

Starting at 1 p.m., the artists and photographers who have their work in the current raptor exhibit will be on hand in the community room to talk about how they created the images. Anderson will begin the raptor program at about 1:30 p.m.

As Anderson shows pictures of the northern pygmy owl, the smallest of Oregon's owls, the soaring owl, the largest, as well as soaring hawks, northern harrier, osprey, accipiters (bird hawks), eagles, and vultures, the audience will be able to ask questions and make comments.

Anderson and his wife, Sue, will also talk about their work helping to conduct a statewide golden eagle survey with the Oregon Eagle Foundation.

"At about 10 years of age, I realized there were raptors on the farm in Connecticut when my Uncle Ben took me to the scene of the death of a long-tailed weasel and a great horned owl on a stonewall fence in Hubbard's Wood," Anderson recalled.

A lasting connection

Jim Anderson has had a long and distinguished career with raptors.

to raptors came when Anderson's grandfather made him eat a great horned owl he shot when he was about 12. His adult passion started when he arrived in Oregon and discovered the "government trappers" were killing eagles and hawks with their 1,080 poison stations.
