expanded to include other personal collections and Western art by many prestigious and well-known artists. Today the museum is run by a private nonprofit foundation.

A visit to the Favell Museum is considered a must for anyone who loves the West and enjoys learning about Western art and Native American artifacts.

Over 100,000 Indian artifacts, illustrating the lives of indigenous tribes from around the world are on display. The primary focus is on Native American tribes. Collections dating from 12,000 years ago include thousands of arrowheads, obsidian knives, spear points, ancient stone tools, native clothing, intricate beadwork, basketry, pottery and more. The museum is home to an incredible fire opal arrowhead. Found in the Black Rock Desert in 1910, the opal arrowhead serves as the museum's centerpiece.

The art show is an annual fall tradition.

opponents' attack."

Cravens played at center-back on defense, and Jensen told The Nugget that Minam is the smartest and most skilled center-back he has ever coached.

"Minam reads offenses well and knows how to create offside traps," said Jensen. "He also wins the ball well in the air, and he is a threat offensively."

Funk was the Outlaws' keeper, and was a first-team all-state selection last year, who got even better this season. Ryan had eight shut-outs in 14 games this season, and only allowed eight goals into the net.

"Ryan's lateral movement is extremely quick, and he has improved his field skills," said Jensen. "I expect him to be in the running for first-team all-state again this year, which means he is the best keeper in the state at the 4A level."

Second-team all-league picks were Alec Gannon, Colby Simeral, and Sean Willitts.

Gannon (senior) played at holding midfield, and set the tempo in the middle of the field with his speed and agility.

"Alec improved his vision and on-ball skills tremendously this season," stated Jensen. "He defended well and read passing lanes very nicely. He really makes it tough for opponents to get out of the middle."

Simeral played outside-back and at wing, and came on strong for the Outlaws in the second half of league play.

Jensen said, "Colby is a very coachable player who has a huge heart for the game. He's very good on the ball and can put the ball on frame from outside the 18."

Willitts (senior) played attacking midfield and also earned second-team honors.

"Sean is a big target with solid vision and scoring ability," said Jensen. "He really does a good job passing the ball around field."

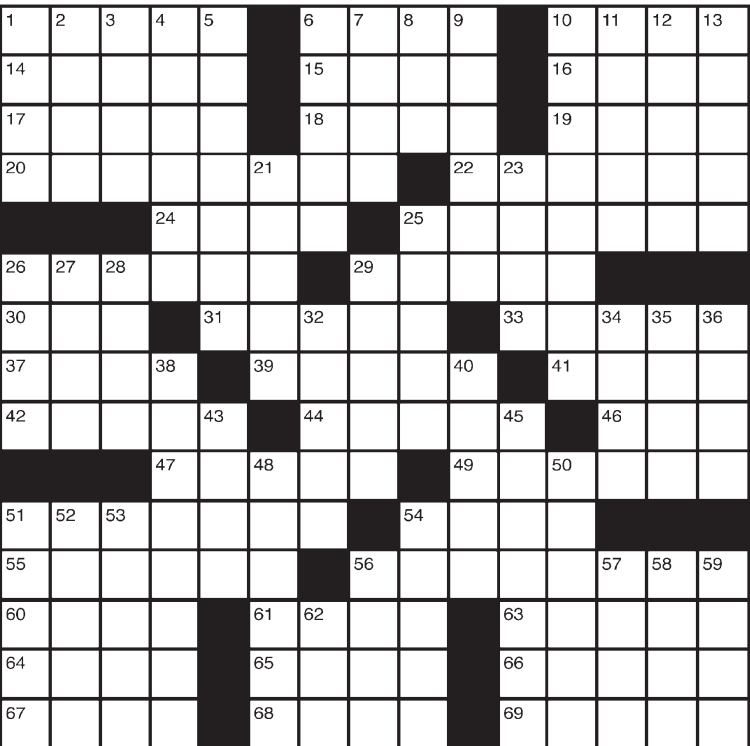

Senior Anson Ricker earned honorable mention on defense, where he played both at center-back and outside-back.

"Anson missed half the season due to a concussion, and still received votes," said Jensen. "He is a lock-down defender who is capable of making overlapping runs and becoming part of the offense."
