Men injured after modified fireworks exploded

KLAMATH FALLS, Oregon (AP) — Authorities say two men were injured after a modified, high-power firework they were handling exploded at a home in southern Oregon.

Emergency workers went to the home about 2 miles south of Klamath Falls in response to a 911 call Friday morning. Klamath County Sheriff Frank Skrah said several people at the home had been dismantling larger mortar shell-style fireworks and then combined the explosive materials into a softball-sized ball.

Skrah said the men attempted to place a fuse in it and light it, but it exploded as they threw it into the air.

Two men were taken to area hospitals for treatment. A bomb squad was called in to remove the remaining explosives found at the scene.
