11 years. District residents pay a property tax to fund the cost of the principal and interest on the bonds. The amount of property tax levied each year to service the bond debt should be less for District residents as a result of the bond sale. Sisters-Camp Sherman

Fire District Board President Chuck Newport said, "Our staff and board of directors are always looking for opportunities to be more efficient with property tax revenue, and this was a logical option for us."

Fire Chief Roger Johnson said, "We felt that the current interest rates were at risk of increasing, and it would be in the best interest of the District residents to act now."

The total amount of refunding bonds issued were $1.88 million.

CORRECTIONS

• Silent Echo Theater does not have a show scheduled for this Thursday.

The theater group will perform "Piano Bar" Friday and Saturday, December 9 and 10, at The Belfry, 302 E. Main Ave. in Sisters. Tickets through www.BendTicket.com are $12 for adults, and $10 for students and seniors (age 65). The prices rise to $15 and $12 at the door.

The theater company will follow with "Piano Fest" on Sunday, December 11 at 2 p.m. at Sisters Community Church, 1300 W. McKenzie Hwy. It will be similar to "Piano Bar," but is being scheduled at a time that children and seniors might appreciate us to understand something so simple as picking up trash can have such a great impact on something bigger, like the way people respect people who have passed," said junior Jaden Condel.

• Scott Stoery graduated from Michigan Technological University. Last week's story "The Zen of construction in Sisters," (The Nugget, November 30, page 25) listed the incorrect university.

Lance Trowbridge's parents are interred at the cemetery. He spoke to the group with emotion in his voice about how his parents met and the life they lived. Students heard why Camp Polk Cemetery is a special place to him and many others.

"This experience enhanced the students' knowledge of the history of Sisters, created a special bond with the population being served, and increased their social awareness and responsibility," teacher Samra Spear said.

Camp Polk Cemetery has graves dating back to 1880 and many names etched on headstones are those students recognized as founders of Sisters as well as current graves.

"A couple years ago we lost a family friend and I got the gift of cleaning up his grave," said Rylee Weber, a junior at SHS. "Everyone buried there has a story and people who their loss affected. What we got to do was a beautiful reminder of their stories."
