Patricia Joy Munro

August 28, 1934 – March 1, 2017

Patricia (Pat) Joy Munro passed away with her family by her side on March 1, at her home in Salem.

Pat was born on August 28, 1934, in Moline, Illinois, to Loren and Evelyn Dennhardt. She attended school in Port Byron and Hillsdale, Illinois and Yamhill, Oregon, graduating from Yamhill High School in 1952.

Pat was active her entire life, involved in her church, school life when her kids were young, and in her community. She worked for most of her adult life including First National Bank in Carlton, secretary at Yamhill Grade School, administrator and General Manager at Black Butte Ranch, and city planner at the Marion County Planning Department where she worked until retirement.

Pat loved being with people which was evident by the many friends throughout her life — from leading a 4-H club, to directing singing groups, playing softball or organizing a Red Hat Club, she was always busy. Pat was always organizing events, making sure holidays were celebrated, and never missing a chance to attend family activities.

Pat had a “sparkle” and was known for her genuine smile and laugh, her bright colors, and matching outfits. She loved working in the yard, caring for her flowers and always updating her curb appeal. She sewed, crafted everything, and loved to paint.

But the love of her life was her family. She was proud of her children and grandchildren, never missing a chance to let them know how much they were loved. Our hearts are a little broken, but we know she is at peace.

Pat was preceded in death by her parents, Loren and Evelyn Dennhardt and her brother, Jim Dennhardt. She is survived by her children, Janelle Beers (Bob) of McMinnville, Julie Bellows (Dan) of Carlton, Jeff Munro (Lori) of Sherwood, 8 grandchildren, and her sister Loryn Moore of Canby.

A memorial celebration will be held on March 18, at 1 p.m. at Calvary Chapel, McMinnville. Donations can be made to Hospice Care of the Northwest or the H.R. Hoover Cancer Center in McMinnville.

Outlaws make all-league listing

The boys basketball team finished league as Sky-Em Co-Champions and had five players selected to all-league teams.

First team honors went to senior Keegan Greaney and junior Ty Horner.

Keegan was only one of the two returnees to the Outlaws’ squad this year. He was a third-year first team all-league pick and was an integral part of the Outlaws success.

“Keegan has been a key player on our team for three years, and is literally one of the best defenders in the state,” said Coach Rand Runco. “He is a tireless and a tenacious defender. One veteran coach at the all-league meeting said that their entire team could not score when Keegan was in the game.”

Ty moved back to Sisters as a junior and had a very successful season his first year back for the Outlaws. Horner improved all season long and was a dominant force inside and outside.

Runco said, “Defensively, he changed opponents play and defended the basket. He was key to the Outlaws’ defense, which continually kept teams 20 points below their average. Offensively, Ty was a force in and out of the paint. He increased as a threat as the season progressed. League coaches felt he was the most improved player throughout the season.”

Ben Saba, Tanner Head, and Jack Berg were all honorable mention.

Saba was outstanding for the Outlaws as a first-year point guard. He was a fierce competitor and did a great job running the offense.

Runco said, “Ben was tenacious and completely unselfish. He had some key games when he really stepped up and carried us.”

Tanner stepped into a starting role when his brother Tyler was injured in the second game of league, and finished as one of the leagues’ top rebounders.

“Berg is just a sophomore, and in his first full year on varsity, was a huge offensive threat. Jack is also an excellent scorer, especially from behind the arc,” noted Runco.

“League awards are hard because every player on the team contributed equally, with different roles,” said Runco. “Any award that a player gets is because of his teammates, and this team exemplifies that.”

Rand Runco, and his staff, David Godfrey and David Daniels, were named the league’s Coach of the Year. Runco told The Nugget that all coaches were key to the award and it honors the entire program.

The Outlaws finished 17-8 overall and lost only four games to 4A opponents. They lost in a heart-breaker in the first round of the state playoffs on a last-second shot from Gladstone.
