Linda Pauer Monahan

August 19, 1948 – June 24, 2017

Linda Pauer Monahan was born in Gary, Indiana, to John and Christine Pauer. She graduated from St. Mary of the Woods College in Indiana with a degree in teaching. She attained a master's degree in education at National College of Education. She was a teacher for nearly three decades at Keeneyville, Illinois middle schools.

She met the love of her life when she was 14 at Holy Angels School. Linda and Bill dated from 1964-1971 and then were married.

She enjoyed teaching early-adolescent children, spirituality, teaching tai chi and chi kung, hiking in Oregon forests, ukulele, book club and her family. After moving to Sisters in 2006, she contributed to the community, including managing the animal venue at the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration Country Fair.

She is survived by her husband of 46 years, Bill Monahan; her sons John (Alice) and Bob (Michelle); her beloved grandchildren Mason, Mila and Dempsey; and her faithful friend and dog Boomer.

A Celebration of Life will be held August 19 at Sisters Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration at 10:30 a.m.

Donations in lieu of flowers to COVE COPY, checks can be made out and sent to Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration with COVE COPY on the memo line, PO Box 130, 68825 Brooks Camp Rd., Sisters, OR 97759.

in Central Oregon, and you will find them in your backyard, especially when you have a delicious garden. Both does and bucks will aggressively attack dogs, especially when fawns are present in the summer months. Attacks on dogs by deer can result in fractures, internal injuries, and death.

Make sure you bring Fido's leash and collar, even if he won't be restrained while playing.

You and your furry friend may want to cool down at the beautiful Oregon Coast to have fun in the sun and water, but dehydration can occur when your pooch is right next to the water. Remember that the ocean water contains salt, and salt water can be harmful to animals. Ingesting the salt increases dehydration, because it draws water into the intestines. Salt water can also cause vomiting and diarrhea, and lead to bigger problems, if your dog doesn't get clean fresh water. Dogs, just like humans, can also get sunburn, which can lead to skin cancer. If Rover has light-colored fur on the nose or ears, they are more susceptible to skin cancer. Keep him inside if possible during the hottest part of the day.

be quicker than you think and grab a piece of meat, like a chicken leg off the table in no time. It doesn't matter whether they're from chicken wings or pork ribs, cooked meat bones cause all sorts of problems, especially if they get lodged in the mouth, throat or esophagus. Make sure your guests have somewhere to dispose of their carnivorous waste well out of your pooch's way.

Keep an eye on your dog and don't leave him unattended. It's important to exercise common sense and proceed with caution to help keep your dog safe, like any other member of the family. Summertime comes with its own set of hazards, so make sure you are familiar with the risks. Learn what warning signs mean trouble and when in doubt, call your veterinarian right way. The summer will be much easier for you and your dog to enjoy!

Dogs, just like humans, can also get sunburn, which can lead to skin cancer.
