

Robin Williams tribute on tap at Hardtails

Roger Kabler, Marc “Skippy” Price, and Ryan Wingfield will be performing together in a Robin Williams Tribute show at Hardtails Bar & Grill on Saturday, July 29.

Kabler performs as beloved comedian and actor Robin Williams, who committed suicide in 2014.

“Roger is this amazing talent,” Price said. “Robin Williams is just a part of what he can do, a little part of what he has to offer — but it’s always been a favorite... He actually becomes Robin Williams ... he looks like him, he sounds like him and he thinks like him.”

Price notes that audiences are moved by the tribute to a legendary performer whose coda was tragic.

“It’s more than just funny,” he said. “It’s emotional; it’s powerful.”

Kabler’s performance as Williams is just one part of a “triple-headliner show,” Price said. The show also includes “stay-at-home-dad comic” Ryan Wingfield and Price himself, whose entrée into show business was in the roll of Skippy in the 1980s situation comedy “Family Ties.”

“People love me from my awkward teen years; now they can see me in my awkward adult years,” he said.

The show will be held on Hardtails’ outdoor stage on Saturday night. For more information contact Hardtails at 541-549-6114.
