

Wyatt Hernandez

Sisters High School September 2018 Student of the Month

Wyatt Hernandez is grateful to be an Outlaw. The Student of the Month says that he's benefited from many "wise words" from coaches and teachers that have instilled healthy habits that he believes will serve him well as he steps into the future.

"Our teachers are very passionate, along with our coaches; and each of them made an impact on my life and I am grateful for that," he says.

Hernandez is student body president, the place-kicker for the Outlaws and a yearbook photographer. He is excited about his student government work, where they are endeavoring to do more community outreach. And he's happy to be back on the gridiron after suffering a serious concussion as a freshman.

"I'm really enjoying kicking," he says. "I'm very grateful to have a chance to play football again and be part of a culture like that."

Wyatt says that his teachers have helped him develop good study habits that enable him to "go the extra mile" in really understanding the material he studies.

"I'm just really lucky to be here, and I want to end on a good year and get some good habits for further life," he says.

"Although I have only had Wyatt in class for a few weeks, I have come to know him the last two years due to his involvement with our student body. It is clear that he has a genuine heart for others and a strong desire to selflessly serve. He can rarely be seen without a smile on his face. In class, he is kind, respectful and accepting. In the halls, I hear him offering a word of encouragement or see him generously giving high-fives. This young man has true Outlaw spirit and with him leading the student body this year, it will be guaranteed that positive changes will take place. Keep up the good work, Wyatt!"

"Wy Wy" His name may change, in a variety of ways, but his kind heart and active searching to go beyond expectations is a constant and solid part of Wyatt Hernandez character. There's nothing he won't tackle (and finish strong) in a student leadership way from a servant's heart (my favorite was the SMS Peanut Butter skit) Stay classy, Wyatt."

— Mrs. Aylor

"Wyatt is as good as they get when it comes to modeling character. He has been a role model for so many of us here at SHS, both as a student and an athlete as well. During his time here, he has shown us how to be a great teammate, a servant to others, model student, and how to handle adversity. At all times doing so with a positive spirit, full of energy, and a great sense of humor. The Sisters community is blessed to have this young man in it. Thank you, Wyatt!"

— Gary Thorson

Wyatt is a servant leader whose spirit and humility combine to make him an effective student body president. He exhibits a deep level of commitment and is gracious even in the face of challenges and adversity. — Charlie Kanzig
