

The holiday season is a wondrous time in Sisters Country. There are places where you can slow down, take a moment to enjoy a hot cup of winter cheer in front of a roaring fire; places where strangers become friends and friends become family.

As the big day approaches, Santa Claus is coming, too. He'll be joining the annual Sisters Christmas Parade, then making his list and checking it twice right afterward.

The holiday season is a wonderful opportunity to give unique gifts while supporting your local economy. Many of those gifts are easy on the budget, so get out there and explore. It's more fun to hunt for the perfect gift in Sisters than just about anywhere.

Going holiday shopping in Sisters isn't like going to the mall — or surfing the internet on your couch. Here, you are dealing with mom-and-pop shopkeepers who offer a nice dose of holiday hospitality to go along with a selection of unique gifts.

Take some time to explore Sisters this holiday season, and enjoy a classic Christmas in our own winter wonderland.
