Follow the Sisters Habitat for Humanity Gingerbread Trail

The holiday elves are dressing up the town for the season, and many businesses will be participating in the 12th annual Sisters Habitat for Humanity Gingerbread Trail.

Businesses will display a gingerbread house, and spectators can vote for their favorite by placing money in the Habitat donation box next to the creation. Everyone is encouraged to vote for more than one house.

The creations will be on display beginning Friday, November 23, until Wednesday,

January 2, 2019. Maps of the gingerbread trail are located at the Sisters Area Chamber of Commerce, Sisters Habitat Thrift and ReStore as well as all participating businesses.

The gingerbread creation that receives the highest dollar amount will win the People's Choice Award. A best-in-show award will be decided by three independent judges. These will be announced in January.

All proceeds benefit the building program of Sisters Habitat for Humanity.

Lasso a Cowboy Christmas

When we imagine Christmas, we think of a small town decked in lights, neighbors gathering for caroling and fellowship — maybe a Christmas Parade. That's exactly what you get in Sisters, which has a long-standing tradition of creating a cozy, down-home holiday.

Around here, they call it a Cowboy Christmas. To kick off the season's events, the Sisters Area Chamber of Commerce will host its yearly Christmas Tree Lighting on Friday, November 23.

The tree-lighting event will be held at Fir Street Park on the corner of Main Avenue and Fir Street at 5:30 p.m.

The annual Christmas Parade will be held on Saturday, November 24, at 2 p.m. on Hood Avenue.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m. and will have participants float, march, and sing their way down Hood Avenue for onlookers.

This year's parade theme is "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree."

"This is such a fun event, always exciting and festive," said Jeri Buckmann, events director at the Sisters Area Chamber of Commerce. "Perfect weekend to start off the season."

Spectators can join Santa Claus himself afterward for refreshments and pictures at the Sisters chamber office (291 E, Main Ave.) after the parade.

For more information or a complete Cowboy Christmas calendar of events email events@sisterscountry.com or call the chamber offices at 541-549-0251.

Canyon Creek Pottery

If shopping local — and handmade — means something to you, a gift from Canyon Creek Pottery is as local and handcrafted as it gets.

For 16 years, Ken Merrill has been at work in his pottery studio and adjoining gallery creating one-of-a-kind functional art.

Come to Canyon Creek for beautiful, handmade...

Mugs for your special cup of coffee. A pie plate for the baker in the house. A soup tureen. Candle-holders to spice up your holiday décor. Colorful rectangular platters for Santa's cookies.

Ken has been a potter since 1983 and opened his pottery studio in Sisters in 1998.

He has won renown for his beautiful, functional handmade pottery. Each piece is handthrown on a potter's wheel then fired in a kiln to 2,400 degrees where it becomes stoneware.

All of Ken's pottery is made of the finest clays available and makes a gift that gives each time it is used.
