

SAA Fourth Friday Art Stroll – Holiday Season

By Helen Schmidling

The final Fourth Friday Art Stroll of 2018 will not disappoint. It may be last, but it’s not least. Gather your friends and family to stroll through the galleries of Sisters and head over to Hood Avenue between 4 and 7 p.m. for the monthly stroll, sponsored by Sisters Arts Association.

Hood Avenue Art is showing More Small Wonders, the gallery artists’ exhibit of small-format fine art.

These are perfect for first-time collectors, tiny-footprint living, and gifts. Discover an artist new to you, or reconnect with your favorite. Hood Avenue Art represents more than 25 artists sharing their visions of life in the high desert. Enjoy live music and refreshments.

We may be running out of time in 2018, but Beacham’s Clock Shop isn’t ... and will be open and giving tours getting people ready to celebrate the New Year with accurate time.

Sisters Gallery & Frame Shop will host artists Kimry

Jelen and Paul Alan Bennett. Kimry will sign her 2019 calendars and talk about her new life at Silvertail Farm. Paul is promoting his new “Night Skies” book. Sana Hayes will also be in the gallery displaying jewelry created from the dog tags of Three Rivers Humane Society’s rescued pets, with all proceeds going to support the shelter in Madras.

Ken Scott’s Imagination Gallery is hosting featured artist Don Zylus with his watercolors. He will be painting on site.

Clearwater Gallery features ceramics by Maren & Laura. Their sleek minimalist shapes and designs have a botanical inspiration.

Minimalist Porcelain by Maren & Laura at Clearwater Gallery.

Laura hand-throws porcelain dishware, while Maren hand-paints each piece with a cobalt design.

Stop by Sisters Coffee Co. for a warm beverage and check out the Topo Trail Maps by Trevor Costa. The great outdoors meets art and design in trail maps that are created on American hardwoods, each with a different grain pattern.

The contours appear differently, depending on where you stand, either casting shadows or highlighting the trail.

Jill Neal created “Dance of the Pies” for her dear friend Kate McDermott who asked for “pie ladies” after writing the book “Art of the Pie” (available at Paulina Springs Books) and starting pie camps in Port Angeles. “Kate has taken pie to an art form,” Jill reports. See this and other new paintings at Jill’s Wild Tasteful Women.

Wildflower Studio continues to celebrate the holiday season with wine, light appetizers, and beautiful artwork and gifts made by local artists.

Grizzly Ridge Upcycle will be open, as well as Dyrk Godby Gallery and Nature’s Bling. Stop by each of the galleries for a holiday treat.

Mountain Pendant by Elyse Douglas at Hood Avenue Art.

Quick Draw

We will be drawing for a limited-edition framed archival giclee titled “Harmony In Nature,” by JoAnn Burgess. It features a pristine view of the upper Deschutes with Mt. Bachelor in the background. You can see the painting at sistersarts.org/4th-friday-art-strolls or at Hood Avenue Art.

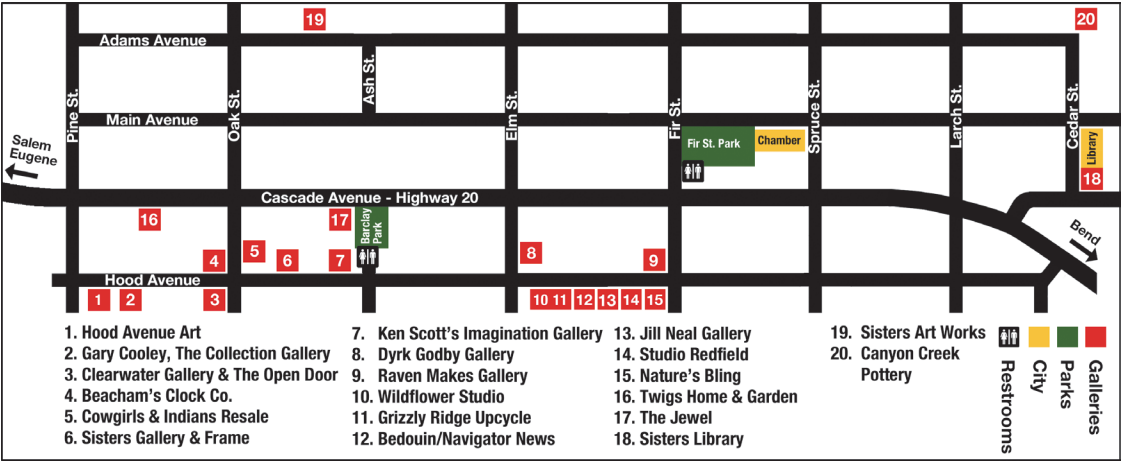

Headress of Honor, by Raymond Nordwall at Raven Makes Gallery.

displays authentic and contemporary Native American art and jewelry from innovative new talent to museum-quality masters.

Taking a break from the stroll this month are Stitchin’ Post Fabric Art Gallery, Kate Aspen’s Cowgirls and Indians Resale, and Sisters Art Works.

Sisters Library isn’t open for the Fourth Friday Art Stroll, but is featuring Paul Alan Bennett’s “Night Skies” series and paper cuts by Carly Garzon Vargas.
