Sisters swimmers are great student athletes

Brooke Robillard and Sam Mayes are the Sisters Outlaws Athletes of the Month.

Both are on the Outlaws swim team. Coach Bryn Singleton says:

“Brooke has been an outstanding swimmer, setting school records in the breaststroke and as a part of all three female relays. She is also a three-year captain of the team, and is an incredibly helpful and supportive teammate.

“Sam Mayes started swimming last year and has made steady progress. He has continually worked hard to get faster in the pool with strong goals, and is an enthusiastic team member.”

Charlie Kanzig, who covers Outlaws swimming for The Nugget had this to say:

“Brook Robillard is a consummate student athlete. Her long-term dedication to swimming continues to pay off for her in the top-level performances. She is a cornerstone to the girls team and the program in general. She is a tremendous role model as a swimmer and as a human being.

“Sam Mayes is one of those quiet types who is well liked by everyone, and he just keeps getting better and better in the pool. He brings a strength to the boys team that makes everyone around him better. His coaches marvel at his continued improvement and look forward to what is in store for him the rest of the season.”

QUILT SHOW:

New director to take reins in January

noted that, “It’s a tough business model to ask any manager to coordinate. Sustained by year-round fundraising and planning we put on a one-day event featuring 1,200 quilts from around the world, hung and taken down the same day, taking over the entire town. With paid staff of only three and hundreds of volunteers, deliver an event that will dazzle the more than 10,000 visitors with the awe and wonder of quilt art ... simple, right?”

Boyd will be relocating from Grants Pass.

“I have a passion for event coordination and a love of quilting ... being able to combine the two together is a dream come true,” she said. “I’ve spent the last 20 years coordinating multiple events — from marching band competitions to military family events and many things in between. Stepping into the role as executive director for the Sisters Outdoor Quilt Show is both exciting and humbling, and I’m honored to take on this role. My husband and I are excited to make Sisters our new home and look forward to becoming part of this beautiful community.”
