SUTTLE LODGE:
Winter programs entice local visitors

Bellingham picks out touring musicians who are coming through the area, and regional artists.

"If I like their music and think it will be a good fit, I bring them down," she explained.

The March 7 Fireside Show features Ryan Sollee with Autopilot is for Lovers and the March 21 show features Portland folk-singer Laura Gibson with Kele Goodwin.

The shows are set up to be accessible for the public, with a $5 charge and a 7 p.m. start and a 9 p.m. finish time to allow folks to get back home at a reasonable hour. Food and beverages are available at the Skip Bar during the performances.

The Suttle Lodge also supports the visual arts, offering residencies during the winter in one of their rustic cabins.

"Every two weeks we have a different artist come to stay with us," said Bellingham.

Those artists offer a free public presentation on their work every other Sunday, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Activities at The Suttle Lodge run through summer, featuring music on the lawn overlooking Suttle Lake on Friday evenings. The Boat-house opens up Memorial Day Weekend. That establishment, which was battered by floods and destructive weather in recent years, has been restored to the feel of an old-time fish shack, serving seasonal, locally sourced foods — "nostalgic Americana kind of food," as Bellingham describes it — by the waterside.

In all cases, The Suttle Lodge welcomes the Sisters and Central Oregon community to come out and enjoy.

"We want to welcome the community to come and use our space," Bellingham said. "They don't have to be a guest at the Lodge to enjoy our spaces."

We just completed one of several fundraisers we will do this year. We played Redmond High School in a five-round dodgeball tournament. We raised $300 for FAN here in Sisters, and Redmond raised $300 for the NICU at St. Charles. We were really excited to host the event after a couple years being snowed out. We are looking forward to the Mr. RHS pageant on March 15 at Redmond High School and the Mr. SHS Pageant at the high school on April 13, where some pretty fantastic high schoolers will be showcased to raise money for some pretty fantastic causes.
