MAHONIA GARDENS

Mahonia Gardens is a one-acre market garden and CSA farm operating in Sisters, dedicated to growing quality produce.

They primarily cultivate in four-foot-wide intensive, permanent beds. Most labor on the farm is done by hand, using broadforks and digging forks to create and maintain beds. While they are not certified organic, they use absolutely no harmful chemicals in production—no pesticides, herbicides, chemical fertilizers or anything.

Mahonia Gardens grows around 40 vegetable crops including: beets, carrots, turnips, onion, potatoes, garlic, radishes, sunchokes, broccoli, cabbage, napa cabbage, tomatoes, tomatillos, peppers, eggplant, kale, chard, parsley, cilantro, salad mix (baby kale, radicchio, baby chard, arugula, spinach, lettuce, mustard), and more.

Their produce can be found at Sisters Farmers Market, at Melvins — and soon at a 24/7 self-serve farmstand on Adams Avenue. Their goal is to make their produce as accessible as possible so as to sell all of their production to consumers in Sisters.

Our mission is simple: starting from the ground and rising up, we want to grow the best produce we can and share it with our community.

REAL FOOD = the whole plant and nothing more
GROWN HERE = in Sisters using only organic practices
