Three Sisters Snack Shack

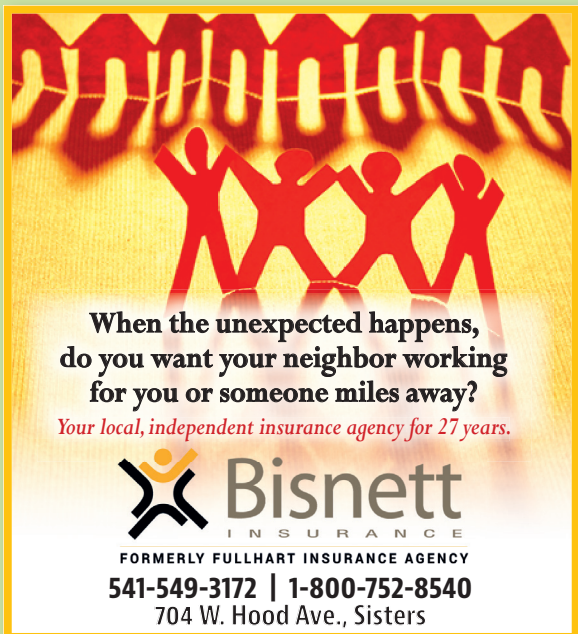

At Three Sisters Snack Shack, the motto is: "Eating healthy never tasted so good." And they mean it. Both ends of the equation are equally important.

Three Sisters Snack Shack uses only organic ingredients locally sourced from Sisters Country ranchers and farmers, using free-range beef and chicken.

And it's delicious. Naturopath-nutritionist Sandy Hamman creates the healthy slaws, salsas and dressings while Jeff Taber prepares the meats. The results are delectable.

Tri-tip, chili-lime chicken and chipotle black-bean bowls are served on a bed of brown and wild rice — or you can enjoy the same offerings in tacos. The healthy slaws and salsas top it all off.

With a strong belief in the connection between diet and good health, Three Sisters Snack Shack serves up great food that makes you feel great — in every way.

When the unexpected happens, do you want your neighbor working for you or someone miles away?

Voluntary benefits help protect your income and provide financial security for you and your family. As an employer, voluntary benefits offer a means to attract and retain quality employees.

Bisnett Insurance voluntary benefits specialist Kevin Cornett believes voluntary benefits should be a part of every employer's portfolio. Working through Colonial Life as a preferred carrier, voluntary benefits offer administrative savings, increased overall employee satisfaction, and most importantly employee retention.

Kevin makes it easy on both the business and the individual employees, with an easy group master application. Simply set an enrollment date, and Kevin will conduct an educational meeting. He also meets with individual employees to help them determine needs and fill out the application appropriately. The benefits are paid for through a simple paycheck deduction.

"It's a simple, simple process," he says.
