

Candy-O serves up tribute to The Cars

Candy-O, "The Ultimate Tribute to the Cars," will take the stage at Hardtails Bar & Grill on Saturday, July 13, at 8 p.m.

Candy-O was established in 2010 and began its foray into the untapped Northwest tribute band market, inspired by lead singer and frontman Randy's haunting like vocals with that of The Cars' own Ric Ocasek.

According to the band, "Candy-O breathes tone, accuracy and incredible authenticity into every radio hit they perform and its astonishing resemblance to The Cars' high-energy performances from the 1970s and '80s have been entertaining audiences from the first show in 2010."

In 2018, Candy-O

was voted "Outstanding American Tribute Band" and accepted the award at the "Producers Choice Honors Red Carpet Press Event" at the Hard Rock Cafe in Las Vegas.

Saturday's show is part of Hardtails' summer series of shows, featuring rocking tributes to Fleetwood Mac, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Tom Petty and Guns 'n' Roses.

Fire volunteers host child safety seat clinic

Sisters-Camp Sherman Fire Corps will hold a child safety seat clinic on Wednesday, July 17, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Sisters Fire Hall, 301 S. Elm St., to inspect and educate caregivers on how to install and properly use their child safety seats.

While caregivers of babies often seek help, Fire Corps wants to reach out to caregivers of children who ride in boosters. The shoulder belt should cross the center of the collarbone, while the lap belt is flat across the child's upper thighs.

Laws regarding car seats as of 2019 include:

- Infants must ride rear-facing until they reach 2 years of age.

- A child who weighs 40 pounds or less must be properly secured with a child safety system that meets the minimum standards and specifications established by the Department of Transportation.

- Children over 40 pounds or who have reached the upper weight limit for their forward-facing car seat must use a child seat with harness or a booster seat until they are 4-feet-9-inches tall or 8 years old and the adult belt fits properly.
