Aqua Hot Tubs

For a lot of folks, the change in seasons is a time of mixed emotions. It's beautiful — but those cold temperatures can take a toll on our bodies.

Lucky for us, Aqua Hot Tubs offers spas and saunas that can soothe away the aches and pains and enhance our well-being throughout the cold, dark months.

In addition to state-of-the-art hot tubs and spas, Aqua Hot Tubs offers top-quality Finlandia Rock Saunas that allow you not only to warm up when the mercury plunges, but also to cleanse and purge your body of toxins in the time-honored Scandinavian sauna tradition.

The saunas are built in Oregon and easy to install. They are also less expensive to operate and easier to maintain than a hot tub — there are no filters to change, no extensive cleaning required, and they're not kept at temperature 24/7 like a hot tub.

It's a great option to weather the winter feeling wonderful inside and out.

Sisters Gallery & Frame Shop

"Framing — it's just what we do," said Helen and Dennis Schmidling at Sisters Gallery and Frame Shop.

Dennis, who is a fine art photographer and graphic designer, grew up around his grandfather's picture framing shop in San Francisco, and has always excelled at woodworking projects. After a first career as a writer and editor, Helen discovered a love of and talent for helping others create the perfect combination of art and framing.

The four most important framing components are the backing, the moulding (that material the frame is made from), the mat board, and the glazing (or glass).

While the frame is mostly aesthetic, the backing, mat board, and glass all serve a critical function in conserving fine artwork. Whether you're framing new art for your home or as a gift, or reframing a treasured piece for a new look, stop at Sisters Gallery and Frame Shop.

Let them help you find the ideal frame for that will make your artwork truly shine.
