Volunteers offer medical transportation in Sisters

A team of dedicated volunteers, working under the umbrella of Age Friendly Sisters Country (AFSC) has launched an all-volunteer no-charge medical transportation service for Sisters Country: Sisters Transportation and Ride Share, or STARS.

Currently, this no-charge round-trip service will only be available for medical appointments in Sisters, Bend or Redmond.

As more volunteer drivers and dispatchers are added to the action team, it is anticipated that the service will expand to include shopping and errand stops. Further expansion will include coordination with other “for-fee” and volunteer services such as CET, Lyft, SPRD, and local cab and shuttle companies.

How does STARS work?

- Call the STARS volunteer dispatcher (541-904-5545) on Tuesday or Thursday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. to schedule a ride to your medical appointment for any future weekday. Rider information and appointment date/time will be logged into the Spedsta software.

- Ride requests should be made at least 48 hours ahead of the appointment

Jazz enthusiast launches jam night at The Belfry

By Jim Cornelius
Editor in Chief

Jazz is a life's passion for Robert Sposato.

He moved to Sisters in 2017, and he's having a significant impact on Sisters' thriving music scene, creating a monthly jam night for young musicians at The Belfry. And he's developing a jazz series to be launched later in the year.

Sposato can trace his passion for jazz to a specific moment. Growing up in the 1960s, he enjoyed the rock music of the day, including a six-month infatuation with the Grateful Dead. Then he heard the Miles Davis Quintet's 1955 recording of “Round Midnight” with John Coltrane on tenor saxophone.

“That was it,” he told The Nugget.

Sposato would go on to create a life in jazz. While his musical passion sometimes

New artist creates 2020 rodeo poster

By Jodi Schneider

Sisters Rodeo's 80th anniversary poster by artist Valerie Smith portrays a rodeo cowboy saddle bronc rider. Smith's drawing captured the true spirit of the classic rodeo event. The poster also includes a historical representation of the past using six black and white photos from the Sisters Rodeo archives that surround Smith's artwork.

Smith told The Nugget, “We've gone to the Sisters Rodeo quite a few times, and my husband, William, takes a lot of photos. I chose that photo from 2019 to create ‘Buckaroo’ using pastels and colored pencils because it's the classic pose with heels up and head down.”

Smith, a Crooked River Ranch resident, was “discovered” by Rodger Dwight, a Sisters Rodeo board director, last October during the annual Sisters Harvest Faire where Smith was showcasing her “Crazyhorse Art” paintings.

“I was walking through the event when I saw her paintings and thought that her artwork would be perfect for this year's rodeo,” Dwight said. “She had other paintings, but that particular one jumped out at me.”

Mostly a self-taught artist, Smith's mission is to bring out the inner beauty of wild horses through her paintings.
