

Bud Travis on a Brahma Sisters 1945 Photo by DeVe.

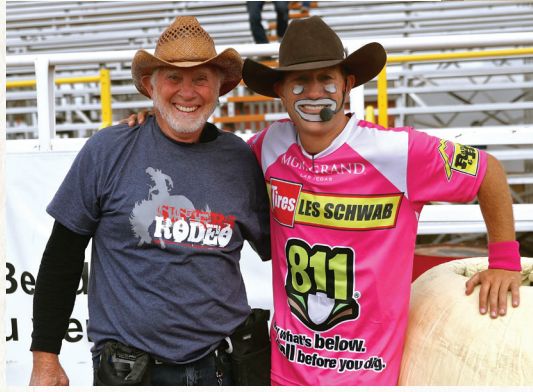

Roland Gridley Calf Roping. Sisters. '48

Fred Gage on Tip Top. Sisters. '48

Dot Tosta off a low. Sisters, 1944. Photo by DeVe

Top left, DeVere Helfrich; right, Cody Rheault; bottom left, Jerry Baldock with J.J. Harrison.

HATS OFF TO RODEO PHOTOGRAPHERS!

Rodeo photography requires a good eye and a steady nerve to capture explosive action in the arena. The Nugget's coverage of the Sisters Rodeo – including this heritage edition – would not be possible without the contributions of ace rodeo photographers, including the historic work of the Dean of Rodeo Photographers DeVere Helfrich and his wife and partner Helen. For many years, Gary Miller was a key contributor and we also tip our hat to Jerry Baldock and Cody Rheault.

The Nugget Newspaper brings "A Tribute to The Biggest Little Show in the World, Sisters Rodeo" with financial support from the City of Sisters and Sisters Area Chamber of Commerce, and participating advertisers. Historical photographs and data generously provided by Three Sisters Historical Society. And thanks to photographers Jerry Baldock and Cody Rheault for amazing photos from their archives.

