Miller Irrigation

Miller Irrigation's goal is to save their clients as much water as possible. By installing and repairing systems to deliver water efficiently, Miller Irrigation helps clients save water and money — and achieve better results on their landscape.

Miller Irrigation offers system installation and maintenance; backflow testing; Nelson horse, cattle and dog waterers; low voltage landscape lighting; water feature installation and repair and winterization. And they'll be there to get you started back up in spring.

This is an excellent time to get a project started or finished and to get a system repaired — when the demands of summer are eased and you can get a jump on next spring.

Since 2004, Scott Miller and his crew have built a reputation for excellent customer service, quality of work, and reliability, providing custom-designed work for homes, ranches and farms across Central Oregon.

Sisters Fence Company

The crew at Sisters Fence wants to thank the Sisters community for the work they have provided, the word-of-mouth support that has helped the company grow swiftly and with a stellar reputation.

The company works hard to be worthy of the faith the community has put in it, delivering quality craftsmanship at a fair price with a strong emphasis on customer service and satisfaction.

Sisters Fence does a variety of work, including decks and walkways, but the specialty and signature is their fence work — domestic privacy fencing to ranch and agricultural fencing is all in the portfolio. Visit www.sistersfencecompany.com for examples.

Sisters Fence also provides snow removal services. Call now to set up an appointment so that the crew can assess the property and post flagging so that they can deliver snow removal with the same attention to customer satisfaction that they bring to all their work.
