

HALLOWEEN: Official event will happen again this month

The cost is minimal — canned food goods, one for each child participating. Cans and kids should be brought to the assembly area at North Fir Street and East Main Avenue, and be ready to roll at 3 p.m. Food collected will be donated to Sisters Food Bank operated by Kiwanis Club.

As in the past, the parade-goers will assemble at Fir Street Park after school and be divided into manageable-sized groups. Rotarians will provide traffic safety at intersections while Club members — in costume — will lead the revelers on staggered routes to avoid congestion and overwhelming shopkeepers.

Past events have seen as many as 300 children joined by nearly as many parents and grandparents. The fun is targeted primarily to elementary- and middle-school-age children. That seemingly has been no barrier to teens and young adults, who enthusiastically join the festive setting, in some cases with Hollywood-level makeup.

“Parents or guardians must register in advance for their kiddos to march. Forms can be downloaded at <https://www.filedropper.com/reg> (click “Download This File” in center) and need to be handed in at the staging area before the start of the walk,” Reitmann emphasized. Children will be on the sidewalks and crossing streets from roughly 3 to 5 p.m., and drivers are asked to be extra cautious.

City Manager Cory Misley is excited about the event.

“These kinds of community-driven events are part of what makes Sisters special,” he said. “We are blessed to have so many nonprofits like Rotary to generate these activities and bring them to life, especially since we do not have the level of staffing at the City level to manage all the good things like this that happen here.”

Campfires, firepits are back in Sisters Country

As of Friday, October 1, local fire agencies lifted a recreational burn ban in all areas within the Sisters-Camp Sherman and Cloverdale Fire Districts.

During the peak of the summer fire season several local fire agencies banned all burning, including recreational fires, due to red-flag warnings and extreme predicted fire behavior in the area.

Recreational fires include those used for pleasure, religious, ceremonial, cooking, warmth, or similar purposes.

The move does not include yard debris burning within the Sisters-Camp Sherman and Cloverdale Fire Districts. Open yard debris burning typically opens around November 1 each year.

Residents are encouraged to contact their local fire protection agencies for additional burning information and regulations. Sisters-Camp Sherman and Cloverdale Fire Departments will continue to monitor weather and fuel moisture conditions in their district and may make modifications on a day-to-day basis.
