Lonny Franzstack Jarkesy

March 17, 1927 – December 22, 2021

Lonny Franzstack Jarkesy, age 94, died peacefully in Boise, Idaho on Wednesday, December 22, 2021. Lonny was born in Schweinfurt, Germany on March 17, 1927. She grew up in Germany and survived the perils of World War II.

Lonny arrived on the shores of America on Thanksgiving Day, 1946. She first resided in New York City, and later moved to Miami where she met and married her loving husband, Joseph, who preceded her in death in 2016.

Joe and Lonny were married for 55 years and enjoyed an exciting and adventurous life, often traveling the world and discovering exotic foods and cultures. Lonny and Joe operated the Shalimar Motel and Steakhouse in Miami, Florida. She was the quintessential hostess, a gourmet cook and avid gardener. She was known for entertaining and hosting fantastic dinner parties enjoyed by family, friends, and even the occasional stranger.

Lonny is survived by her daughters, Jill of Sisters, and Karen (Michael) of Eagle, Idaho; her grandchildren, Blake, Evan, Alex, Lucas, and Matthew; and her great-grandchild, Elias. She is also survived by her stepchildren Arlene, Marilyn, Thomas, and George; seven grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at Kraeer-Fairchild Funeral Home, 4061 North Federal Highway, Fort Lauderdale, on Friday, January 7, from 5 to 8 p.m. Burial will take place in Caballero-Rivero Woodlawn North Cemetery, Miami, on January 8.

Sisters Farmers Market seeks new manager

Sisters Farmers Market (SFM) is looking for a new manager as Caroline Hager steps aside.

Hager announced the move last week in a newsletter.

“I am filled with a flurry of mixed emotions as I share that I am phasing out of the Sisters Farmers Market manager position to pursue future goals,” she wrote. “I am beyond grateful that my winding trail has led me to the Sisters community, Seed to Table, and the incredible opportunity to grow with Sisters Farmers Market for the past two years.”

Hager will aid bringing her successor on board.

In conjunction with the announcement, Seed to Table (S2T), which is the parent organization of the Market, posted a two-tiered job description for Hager’s successor: manager of Sisters Farmers Market and Seed to

The first component of the position requires they dedicate 25 hours weekly from March-October as the SFM manager. The manager will be responsible for all aspects of coordinating the Sunday Farmers Market. The manager will work in partnership with the Seed to Table executive director and SFM committee, and work directly with vendors, sponsors, non-profits and entertainers to create the Market experience.

The second component of this position is to serve as S2T’s outreach coordinator, dedicating 10 hours per week on creatively and professionally managing and expanding S2T media outreach.

Those interested are invited to send a cover letter and resume to audrey@seed-totablesisters.org, subject line “Farmers Market Manager Position: [Applicant Name].”
