

FOR CONGRESS

C. N. McArthur

PRESENT INCUMBENT

I am against strikes and Lock-outs. Industrial differences should be settled by arbitration—in other words by reason, not by force. No person has the right to strike anywhere or at any time against the public peace, health or safety.

Will H. Bard, candidate for Republican nomination for Circuit Judge, Department No. 6, Multnomah County has been a resident of Multnomah County since 1897 but has resided continuously in the City of Portland, since 1908. He was born and reared on a farm in the state of Illinois. After attending public schools he worked his way through college, earning the money with his individual efforts and he was admitted to the practice of law in 1889. He has spent a number of years in the District of Alaska where he served the United States Government and the District in various legal capacities, returning to Portland where he has resided continuously in the practice of law since 1908. He persistently advocates doing away with law delays, realizing that much injustice results from courts prolonging the hearing and decision of cases. He has that pleasing manner in his make up which will make him very agreeable to litigants and attorneys who may have matters before him. His slogan is: "Justice without fear or favor to the rich and poor alike."

Walter D. Whitcomb, candidate for state senator from this district, is the Whitcomb of the well known accounting bureau of Whitfield, Whitcomb & Co. He is a native of Chicago, came to Oregon in 1910, when in company with William Whitfield, he established himself as partner and executive in the building up of this responsible organization and its extensive business operation, Mr. Whitcomb has demonstrated keen foresight, forward-looking progressiveness, and extraordinary managerial ability, coupled with a personal and business integrity that has helped to make the name of his firm a guarantee of soundness and reliability throughout the wide territory it serves.

When the United States entered the war in the spring of 1917, both Walter Whitcomb and his partner, leaving their business in charge of trusted subordinates, promptly enlisted for service. Mr. Whitcomb enlisted in the medical corps as a private, and was sent overseas in the fall of 1917. He was sent back to the United States the following summer on important government missions, and returned to France in the fall of 1918. He had steadily won promotion and when he was discharged from the service in the summer of 1919 he left with the rank of colonel.

Mr. Whitcomb has a slogan that sounds good. It is:
"I will handle your business in a businesslike manner."
